Lee Selby is Barry's first world boxing champion!

GEM REPORT by PHILIP IRWIN

BARRY has a boxing world champion in Lee Selby, who took the title last Saturday night in the O2 Arena by outclassing the reigning IBF featherweight champion, Evgeny Gradovich.

• STOP PRESS
Lee Selby open top bus parade this Saturday, in Barry - see GEM website for details.

AN eight-year-old Barry boy, who carried out 100 random acts of kindness, was treated to an act of kindness himself, when a local businessman let him have a go in a Reliant Regal made famous in TV's Only Fools and Horses and the Mr Bean series.

Bailey Sloan has ADHD and is on the autistic spectrum. His mother, Lisa, thought carrying out good deeds would be an excellent way of teaching him empathy with other people.

Bailey's good deeds include clearing litter at the beach, thanking a chef for a nice meal, feeding swans, tidying the trolleys at supermarkets and forgiving people who had hurt his feelings.

On Thursday, May 28, around 100 friends from as far away as Australia, America, Israel, Europe, and parts of the UK, came to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mrs Nolly Brend in The Potter's House, Hebron Hall, Dinas Powys. (SEE FULL REPORT ON PAGE 3).

100 acts of kindness leads to a very special surprise

A thrilled Bailey with mum Lisa, nan Ann, Cavan - and the Trotters' Reliant Robin, the car that launched a thousand dodgy deals!

What now for Nell's Point?

I WAS surprised to learn at a recent meeting between Barry Island Traders and the Vale Council that yet another proposal for the land at Nell's Point had been rejected.

The scheme was apparently for a themed indoor water park resort (slides, lazy river, wave pools etc, with combined tourist accommodation), arising from the Vale Council's recent attempt at marketing this land.

How annoying is this, from both a business perspective and for the future of the town as a tourist resort?

It would provide much-needed jobs, valuable amenities that we do not currently have, and a massive tourism spin-off for the resort.

I understand the council's reason for refusal was that it would have taken too long to build – and this is after almost 20 years of the land being vacant.

So many good ideas have come forward for this land over the years and every time they are rejected outside of the public gaze.

It's about time decision-takers were held to account. It can't just be all about building endless flats and houses.

How about making a decision that actually benefits the town once in a while?

You never know, it just might work!

Why travel from Bristol?

HOW many more years are the people of south Wales going to have to travel to Bristol for flights they can afford?

When in Bristol airport it is noticeable how many people from Wales are there. The loss to Bristol airport would be considerable if only Cardiff Airport would get their act together and compete with flights at budget prices.

It seems there is very little hope that the situation is going to change in the near future. Would someone please explain to fed-up travellers, why the budget airlines do not operate from Cardiff and please don't tell us that Cardiff Airport is growing and successful.
Mr C Kendall, Barry.

Party time for Marie Curie

MARIE CURIE is here for people living with any terminal illness, and their families. We offer expert care, guidance and support to help people make the most of their time.

As a Marie Curie nurse, I see first-hand how vital this hands-on care and emotional support is. This is why I'm asking people to host or attend a Blooming Great Tea Party between June 20-29.

Last year, across the UK the Blooming Great Tea Party for Marie

Curie raised £667,000, which pays for 33,350 hours of vital nursing care.

With your support we can do more, for more of the people who need us.

You can sign up to host your Blooming Great Tea Party at www.mariecurie.org.uk/teatime Please do share your event details, photos or get involved on social media using #BloomingGreat.

'Why close the rural Vale leisure centres on Bank Holidays?'

I PAY an annual membership fee so as to be able to use the facilities of the Llantwit Major leisure centre at will.

I would like the Vale Council's leisure services department to explain their apparent difficulty in relating leisure time to Bank Holidays.

Specifically, I would like to understand the reasons why Llantwit Major and Cowbridge leisure centres no longer open during prime leisure time, i.e. Bank Holidays?

The four-day Easter weekend saw both leisure centres completely closed on both Good Friday and the Bank Holiday Monday as they were once again during the late May Bank Holiday.

Do the council believe there is something unique about the residents of the western Vale which makes us inactive on Bank Holidays?

By comparison, are the residents of Barry somehow more active, thus ensuring their local leisure centre is open as normal?

The Llantwit and Cowbridge centres used to open on Bank Holidays, albeit with reduced hours. However, over the last 18 months or so, the centres have closed on most public holidays.

The Vale Council even 'redefined' Christmas and New Year's Eve as a 'public holiday' last year and closed these centres accordingly. Not even 'early closing', just closed all day.

I would like to understand for whose benefit these centres are now being operated?

The fact that the management of the centres is under contract to a private operator is certainly no justification for the Vale Council failing to ensure that publicly-owned leisure facilities are available during peak leisure times.

This requirement should certainly have been included in the terms of whatever contract the council entered into with the private operator.

Nor can these closures be conveniently justified as 'essential cost savings', because the council and Government invest heavily in public awareness campaigns promoting the health benefits of keeping fit and active.

It is, therefore, quite ridiculous to close these facilities on the very days when residents have the most opportunity to take advantage of them.

(Name and address supplied).

'Nursing crisis down to bad planning'

SURELY it makes no sense whatever for executives of the NHS to declare they now intend to recruit and train more nurses for the future, so that they will no longer waste millions of pounds, as much as the institutional overspend, on exorbitant payments to nursing agencies for temporary nurses – who cannot possibly be as efficient as regular nurses?

Why had they not learnt this 20 years ago?

Had they not known how much money agencies had charged the NHS during all those years when executives miscalculated the minimum number of regular nurses necessary, leading to the NHS having to call upon agency nurses, because staffing levels planned had been quite inadequate?

It had proved every year, that the judgement of executives on staffing levels and other matters, such as the constantly reducing number of beds, and increasing numbers of patients on trolleys, was not only deplorable, but they lacked any ability to learn progressively, from past errors.

The Chief Executive now says the management have discovered a new understanding of the facts. The management may be quite correct to deplore the greed of agencies, but they are still no nearer to recognising that the agencies have only profited enormously, because of the gross incompetent pre-planning of the NHS management. There can be no other cause and effect.

C N Westernman, Brynna.

NEW STOPS FOR T9 BUS?

MANY Rhose residents now use the 303/304 bus service to Tesco, Highlight Park, changing to the X91 for faster travel to Cardiff.

The (empty) T9's new timetable appears to show that it now stops at Golwg y Coed and Highlight Park. If so, are the drivers aware?

If these are now valid stops, are the Barry and Rhose residents also aware?

Ralph Taylor,
Rhosee.

'Thank you for the brilliant Vale beach clean-up'

VOLUNTEERS cleaned the coast all across the Vale as part of Keep Wales Tidy's Clean Coast Week (May 9-17).

A total of 10 beaches and bays from Penarth to Ogmere-by-Sea were cleaned by more than 300 volunteers as part of the week, collecting over 200 bags of rubbish.

I would like to say a massive "thank you" to all the volunteers and organisations who joined in with the beach cleans. It was a brilliant effort by everyone involved.

This was the third annual Clean Coast Week, sponsored by McDonald's Restaurants Ltd, which coincides with Clean Europe Week.

This aims to reduce litter and promote responsible behaviour overseas, as well as here in Wales.

Cadets can hold their heads high

THE air cadets of Cowbridge 293 Squadron did themselves proud during a very busy weekend at the Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival.

They were in attendance from Saturday afternoon, helping the stall holders unload their goods, right through Sunday and finally finishing on Monday evening, helping the stall holders to clear their pitches, and only stopping work when everyone else had gone home.

They were a dedicated group of boys and girls, doing a multitude of tasks and keeping the festival clear of rubbish, carrying out their duties with courtesy and efficiency.

Supported by adult staff and parents, the cadets sold soft drinks and raffle tickets for food hampers made up from items donated by the stall holders, as well as a hamper kindly donated by the Co-op.

The Co-op deserves a special vote of thanks for providing free lunch and snacks to the cadets and a quiet area for them to enjoy a well-earned break from their duties.

Tesco also kindly donated soft drinks to be sold by the cadets to help boost their funds.

Many people commented on how hard the cadets were working and how polite they all were.

Congratulations 293 Squadron on a successful weekend and may you all hold your heads up high in the knowledge that you did a fantastic job.

Not party to library vote

IN last week's GEM, it was stated that councillors had voted to close Rhose library. I wish to distance myself from this statement, as I did not vote and could not vote on the issue, since it was a decision made by councillors who were cabinet members.

I am totally supportive of the 'Save Rhose library campaign group' decision to seek a judicial review in the High Court.

Furthermore, I have reason to believe that there are many other ways of making budget savings, which should have been considered as an alternative to closing Rhose library.

Fellow campaign member Adam Riley's comments that the council failed to effectively engage local people in consultation, is a view shared by myself and many residents of Rhosee.

It seems grossly unfair to even consider closing this essential service funded by the public purse, since the population for Rhosee is greater than Cowbridge and growing.

The decision of the council to defend their position could indirectly cost us local taxpayers dearly.

Coun Philip Clarke,
Rhosee.

'IT'S HOW YOU ARE OLD THAT INSPIRES US' Over one hundred friends (from different parts of the world) arrive to celebrate Nolly's 100th birthday!

CHARITY CREAM TEA

A CREAM tea is being arranged in Llanrcarfan Village Hall on June 20 at 3pm - to raise money for the Mind, LATCH and Air Ambulance charities.

Tickets are available at £5 each from Ralph and Jackie Prole (01446 781238); Sue Taylor (01446 781453) and Ann Ferris (01446 781350).

There will be a raffle with a first prize of £100 travel voucher, second prize of £50, third prize of £50, plus other prizes.

ON Thursday, May 28, about 100 friends from as far away as Australia, America, Israel, Europe and parts of the UK, came to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mrs Nolly Brend in The Potter's House, Hebron Hall, Dinas Powys.

Nolly had already had one party on the preceding Sunday - her actual birthday - when relatives were joined by staff and fellow residents at the Bethel House Residential Home part of the Hebron Hall complex, where Nolly's room became a rival to the Chelsea Flower Show!

In 1957 Nolly and her late husband, Norman, started working in Emmanuel Grammar School, Swansea, where they helped to care for children of missionaries who were serving overseas.

Many of the children came to think of them as their 'adopted' mum and dad. Such is the affection that so many people hold for her, former students and mission executives were prepared to travel from far and wide to celebrate with Nolly.

One guest said: "Nolly, as you have celebrated birthday after birthday, you have shown such grace, and shown that it's not how old you are, it's how you are old that inspires us!"

Since becoming part of the Bethel family in Dinas Powys, and until her mobility deteriorated, she attended Mt Pleasant Baptist Church in Barry.

Rev Ken Iveson, who recently retired as pastor of Mt Pleasant, preached the sermon at the Sunday morning service held in Bethel House on Nolly's birthday, which coincidentally was Whit Sunday, the anniversary of the birthday of the church.

Cavan's surprise for Bailey

He recently appeared on Good Morning Britain, ITV's flagship early morning show, to talk about how happy doing kind things had made him - although, he was just as keen to give the 'thumbs up' to his nan Ann on live TV.

Businessman Cavan Sullivan was so impressed by the youngster's selflessness that he took his Reliant Regal, which has a unique place in British TV history, to Porthkerry Park for Bailey have a ride in it.

Bailey told The GEM: "It's very exciting to see the car," and his mum Lisa added: "It was a lovely surprise."

Bailey was also treated to tea at the Porthkerry Park café, courtesy of the Zeraschi family.

Cavan explained: "It is the original car used in the famous 'Batman and Robin' episode of Only Fools and Horses, and was sprayed blue and used in the Mr Bean series."

There's a touching story behind Cavan's purchase of the car; he bought it as a surprise for one of his closest friends Graham Parker who had cancer, and later died.

"He was the biggest prankster ever and loved Only Fools and Horses. He even had a dog called Del Boy!"

When Cavan announced he'd bought one of the UK's most famous cars as a surprise for Graham friends and family thought it was James Bond's DB7 or a DeLorean, which was manufactured in Northern Ireland. He and Graham had a drive in it with Graham as Batman and Cavan as Robin!

Cavan now puts the car to a very special use: "I'm hoping to make £100,000 for Marie Curie with it. I'm about halfway to that figure. It is available for photo sessions at businesses, clubs, and events for a charitable donation, of course. People can call 07877 836 798 for more details."

Man is jailed for Porthcawl murder

LEFT: David James Braddon, who has been sentenced to a minimum of 20 years in prison.

A judge has sentenced David James Braddon (26) from Caerphilly, to a minimum of 20 years in prison, after he pleaded guilty to the murder of Conner Marshall at Trecco Bay caravan park, Porthcawl.

Conner Marshall (18) from Barry was found with multiple injuries in Trecco Bay caravan park on Sunday, March 8.

Detective Chief Inspector Kath Pritchard said: "Today, David Braddon has been convicted of a brutal and senseless crime.

"Our thoughts are with the family and friends of Conner. We hope that today's verdict can bring some solace to his family and friends, and allow them to at least begin the process of rebuilding their lives, following the loss of Conner."

"We would like to thank the local community for their support and patience while we investigated Conner's murder. We know incidents like this can cause a great deal of concern and anxiety.

"The community support has undoubtedly helped us to bring the person responsible for Conner's murder to justice."

Site of mine disaster now a nature reserve

A GROUP of nine Penarth and District Ramblers joined their leaders Jan and John on an overcast morning and, on arriving at the Six Bells near A bertillery, prepared for a six-mile walk in the area.

Setting off through the Six Bells nature reserve, which has been developed on the site of the former Six Bells mine, they made their way to the impressive sculpture of the miner known as the Guardian.

The sculpture, designed by Sebastian Boyesen, was commissioned in 2010 to commemorate the Six Bells mining disaster in 1960, which claimed the lives of 45 men and boys. Climbing through the reserve and crossing the main road into a forest, they arrived at a concrete stand which was formerly the base for a pylon which supported cables carrying spoil from the colliery to the hilltop.

Climbing further uphill to join a track that skirted the hill top to a very uneven field containing spoil heaps which have since grassed over, another short climb led onto the open moorland at the top of the mountain.

Continuing along a moorland track which was once the parish road, and following the remains of ancient hedges, the group passed Hafod y Dafal, a ruined 17th century farmhouse, then through fields of sheep and cattle to descend through Cwm Big on rough woodland paths. On June 6, meet at 8.30am at Cogan Leisure Centre for an 11-mile moderate/hard walk taking in Skirrid and Bryn Arw; contact Sylvia on 029 2070 8758.

On June 7, meet at 9.30am at the Barry Waterfront for a 9.5-mile moderate walk taking in Wick, St Donat's and Nash Point; contact Geraint on 029 2051 5278.

On June 7-12, a party of Belgian walkers travelling in their own coach will be visiting the area to take part in walks arranged by the Vale and Penarth groups.

On June 8, Penarth will be leading three walks, all beginning from Rhossili and if you intend joining them, please meet at 9am at Barry Waterfront to share transport.

Details of the walk routes can be found on the group website.

On June 11, meet at 9.30am at Barry Waterfront if you would like to take part in two more walks with the Belgian group. Access the website for details.

To follow the group log onto www.penarthramblers.wordpress.com and membership advice can be obtained from Pam on 029 2025 5102. JS

News update from the Penarth Aviation Society 'PIGS MIGHT FLY'

SINCE humans first looked up into the sky and saw birds flying, there has been a quest for manned flight. Many tried to fly with various contraptions strapped to their bodies but failed and died in their futile attempts to mimic birds; human muscles were not strong enough.

Launching gliders from a hill or precipice sometimes succeeded. Sir George Cayley, who has been described as the 'Father of Aerial Navigation', designed and built gliders and in 1853, 50 years before the first powered flight was made by the Wright flight was made across Brompton Dale, north Yorkshire, by Cayley's coachman.

The early fliers' names are legendary: Colonel Sam Cody, A V Roe, John Moore

Brabazon, Charles Rolls, the Short Bros, Frederick Handley Page, Geoffrey De Havilland to name just a few. They were inventors, flyers and some - the founders of famous aviation companies.

Peter is from Nova Scotia, Canada, touring across the UK to promote his series of books and to share with PAS members some of the fruits of his more than 35 years of research and writing.

The author of Pigs Might Fly, Peter wrote a series of six book titles chronicling the lives and achievements of 120 of aviation's earliest pioneers from the period before the First World War – France, England, North America and elsewhere. He will give a talk to Penarth Aviation Society on Friday, June 5 at 8pm. Visitors are welcome to attend, at Penarth Conservative Club, but should contact the Hon Secretary, Mike Duxbury, for seating availability on 01446 711482 or 07829 124 353.

A donation of £2 per head is requested. The talk is followed by a business session for society members only. For further information, go to Penarth Aviation Society website and facebook page.

DELIGHT AS BARRY'S LEE SELBY WINS WORLD TITLE!

The champ's impressive record of 19 wins and one draw counted for nothing as 28-year-old Selby completely outboxed a tough fighter with a reputation for pressurising and grinding down his opponents.

The Selby camp's plan of campaign worked perfectly and the Russian was well behind on points when the fight came to a premature end.

In a clash of heads, Gradovich sustained a bad cut near his eye. The fight was stopped and the result was decided on points – making Selby a clear winner. (Two judges had Lee ahead 79-73, while the third had him 80-72 ahead).

On Monday, Lee found time in a busy day of media interviews to speak to The GEM, with his 10-month-old daughter Lucia happily offering her opinion in the background!

I asked him when he knew that his team's game plan was the right one.

He said: "It was honestly after about 30 seconds. That was all it took for me to feel comfortable that he had nothing that could hurt me."

I wondered if Gradovich realised that Lee had too much for him, and Lee said: "To be honest, I think he expected to lose the first few rounds to me because he knew I was a better technical fighter."

"Throughout his career he has got results by pressurising opponents and wearing them down. He must have been hoping I would tire, but that was never going to happen."

Lee was expecting to be busy with media commitments for the rest of the week, but was planning a short holiday after.

His promoter, Eddie Hearn of Matchroom, however, has already been outling his thoughts about Lee's next fight.

Lee said: "We have talked about my first title defence – towards the end of August – and we want that to be in Cardiff, either at the Motorpoint Arena or in the Millennium Stadium."

He added that the Millennium Stadium can be partitioned off, depending on the ticket sales.

The featherweight division is a strong division, with good fighters holding the WBO, WBA and WBC versions of the title, and Lee would like to add one of these belts to his collection in the future, if boxing politics allow.

It is a long way from when an eight-year-old Lee Selby tried his hand at boxing in the Colcot Road gym.

He showed talent right from the start, and from then on he was a regular at the Rhose Boxing Club, where he was coached by Peter Anthony.

Sadly, Peter Anthony died when Lee was 17, and he next trained in Splott before moving, at the age of 21, to his present gym, St Joseph's in Newport, where he trains under Tony Borg.

Chris Smyth has known Lee since his days at Rhose Boxing Club and he told The GEM: "I was at ringside, just one row back, and the fight went just as we all predicted."

"Lee is now Wales' 12th World Champ – and Barry's first!"

"There was massive Welsh support in the O2. Five coachloads from Barry meant that there were 250 there, and a lot more made their own way to London. Also, another Welsh fighter, Craig Evans, was on the bill, so we really made ourselves heard."

He added: "Lee has so much more to offer, and everyone in his camp just wants to see what he can do next."

Coun Richard Bertin called for a

"hero's welcome" for Lee in Barry, saying: "I think an open top bus and parade from King Square would be very fitting".

Sully Group's packed meeting

THE Jubilee Hall was packed for a Save Sully Group (SSG) meeting last week, with many residents having to stand. Steve Thomas, chairman of the SSG, chaired the meeting, accompanied by Coun Chris Tatt and Clerk David Roberts.

The main subject on the agenda was the proposed development of the Sports Club field.

Members of the Sully Sports and Social Club informed the meeting that it was in financial difficulties and needed to raise money, hence the interest in the possibilities arising from this development.

It was suggested that a proper business plan could be drawn up to help the club with its problems, thus avoiding the need for the development. The chairman asked the meeting if anyone could help in this respect.

On the question of what would happen to the part of the sports field on which houses were not currently proposed if, in spite of the injection of new money, the Sports Club failed, there could be no firm answer – but obviously there would be the possibility of even more development.

The meeting was asked to indicate, by a show of hands, whether they approved of the proposed development or not. Two people approved it; the rest of the meeting was against.

The chairman explained at length the ramifications of the planning situation in the Vale in regards to the LDP and UDP and referred to other proposed developments in the area, particularly at Hayes Road and at Cog. It is understood that the latter is no longer a Vale reserve site but part of the main LDP house-building plan.

When asked what is the next step, the chairman explained that the SSG would need employ the services of specialists in planning matters such as inspectors, barristers and engineers to fight any plans put forward.

He also pointed out to do this the group would need finance. The SSG has limited funds in the bank as the start of a fighting fund. This money had been raised by holding events, such as auctions, quiz nights etc and by residents paying the £10 fee to become members of the group.

Several more fundraising activities are already planned, including a table top sale to be held at the Old School hall in Sully from 9am-12 noon this Saturday, June 6.

At the end of the proceedings, the chairman received warm applause for his excellent handling of the meeting.

SOROPTIMISTS' AWARD FOR BRYN HAFREN GIRL

AT the May meeting of Soroptimist International Barry & District, the Community Service Award was presented to Saffron Manning from Bryn Hafren Comprehensive.

Since 1996, when the club decided to mark the centenary of female secondary education in Barry, a Cup has been awarded annually to recognise a student who has made an outstanding commitment to the local community.

Immediate past president Jeni Gower Jones outlined why Saffron, who is at present studying applied science, health and social care and biology, had proved to be such a worthy recipient of the award.

She was nominated by Emma

Price, head of Bryn Hafren Sixth Form, who described Saffron as "an extremely valued and proactive member of our school community".

The nomination was supported by Holly Morgan (Communities First development officer youth) who described Saffron as "committed, enthusiastic, with a fantastic work ethic".

Saffron has received Millennium Certificates for 150 hours volunteering since becoming a highly respected member of Barry Communities First Team in a volunteer capacity in 2014. Her voluntary work has included a four-week summer camp project (which involved sport and art), catch up clubs (after school homework support), the 'Nights Out' project with the Arts Council of Wales and, more recently, Saffron has been part of a group of volunteers who were successful in their application for a £850 grant for a youth-led grants panel known as 'Dish out Dosh' in the Vale.

Saffron has had previous involvement with the SI Barry and District Club having been presented with her Millennium Award by Jane Hutt AM, who is also a Soroptimist, as well as taking part in the annual 'mock interviews' the club organises.

Saffron was accompanied by her proud father, Jeremy Manning, and the Soroptimist Cup, along with a cheque, was presented to Saffron by president Clare Hart, who also congratulated her on successfully obtaining a place at university.

NOSTALGIC LOOK BACK AT DOOMED CONCORDE

THE Dinas Powys Club welcomed Mr John Scott, who provided a fascinating talk entitled 'Concorde'.

He began his talk with a brief history of aviation immediately post war up to the time that the first supersonic fighter was introduced, namely the English Electric 'Lightning', capable of Mach 2 but with one major drawback – it could only carry enough fuel to cruise for 15 minutes!

From there, the British aviation industry developed a wide range of advanced military panes including the Vulcan, the Fairey FD 2 delta winged experimental aeroplane and the ill-fated TSR2.

During the late 50s, the British and French aviation experts explored a joint venture to pool knowledge and one of the outcomes was a discussion on building a supersonic passenger jet. Once the bureaucratic and political obstacles had been overcome a project was created the outcome of which was 'Concorde'.

The project was beset with tremendous technical challenges right from the outset, ranging from the need to develop new materials and techniques, a new generation of avionics and even a new type of engine.

Eventually, all challenges were solved and the prototype first flew on March 2, 1969. Alongside this, the Russians were also developing a similar aircraft, the Tupolev Tu-144LL, nicknamed 'Concordisk' which flew in December 1968, but crashed during the 1973 Paris Air Show. It was the first supersonic plane into service and the first to leave service!

The Anglo-French Concorde underwent exhaustive tests in order to obtain a 'Certificate of Airworthiness' and eventually entered service with British Airways in 1978 working on the London to Bahrain service.

Later it flew the London to Washington D C route but was delayed from operating from London to New York for another 18 months due to local opposition from New Yorkers.

A total of 18 Concorde were built and 16 remained in service without incident until a tragic accident in Germany on July 25, 2000, where due to debris on the runway there was a catastrophic accident, which resulted in a fuel tank rupturing and catching fire. All Concorde were, immediately, grounded until an investigation, after which the fuel tanks were lined with Kevlar to stop compressive shocks and the 'Certificate of Airworthiness' was reinstated in November 2001.

Concorde was brought back into service but, after withdrawal of support by the manufacturers, British Airways had to withdraw the airliner from service in 2003.

In response to a question, Mr Scott suggested that the world had moved on in that passengers were concerned about cost, rather than time-saving, so thought it unlikely that there would be another similar project within the foreseeable future.

Club member Alec Ross proposed a vote of thanks for this most interesting and enjoyable talk.

Marines face discharge after city centre attack

TWO Royal Marines who beat up an innocent pedestrian after a drinking spree, have been given suspended prison sentences at Cardiff Crown Court, writes AJ SICLUNA.

Anton Hudson, 24, and Sebastian Tegelaar (22), both stationed at MoD St Athan, admitted a charge of causing Frenchman Olivier Sagot actual bodily harm.

They were told by Recorder Phillip Harris-Jenkins: "That attack was needless, mindless and totally unprovoked."

Hudson received 23 days imprisonment, suspended for two years, and Tegelaar received a six-month sentence, also suspended for two years.

Each was also ordered to carry out 200 hours unpaid work and each was directed to pay their victim £1,335 each in compensation.

The court heard that they are likely to be dismissed from the service as a result of the sentence.

Prosecutor Tony Trigg said that on February 22, Mr Sagot was in the centre of Cardiff with friends and was waiting for a taxi in Castle Street.

The two defendants, who were drunk, and a third man, approached him.

"They were intent on causing trouble," said Mr Trigg.

Hudson punched Mr Sagot and Tegelaar then weighed in and struck him.

"He received blows to the body and head and fell to the pavement bleeding profusely," said Mr Trigg.

The defendants ran off, but were arrested shortly afterwards. Both defendants were so drunk, they had very little recollection of the incident.

Mr Sagot suffered four snapped teeth and a broken nose.

He said he had been in great pain since the attack and was embarrassed and self-conscious because of the state of his face.

Derek Gooden, for Tegelaar, said he had been in the Marines for two and a half years, and was normally a person of restraint.

"He behaved in a manner inconsistent with his character," he said.

Aubrey Samson, for

Hudson, said that in the past, he had been cautioned for the offence of battery.

"He is a very proud Marine. He still feels he still has something to contribute to society."

The Recorder said the attack took place at night, in a public place, and when the defendants had been drinking.

"It was a joint attack and it was unprovoked. You have brought shame upon yourselves, your family and your regiment."

RHEINFELDEN REVISITED

Choirs' Friendship through Song!

Singing out on Sunday morning...

THE recent visit of the Barry Male Voice Choir to Rheinfelden, after an absence of 10 years, exceeded the expectations of choristers and supporters alike.

'Friendship through Song' remained the theme throughout the visit. Old friendships were rekindled, new friendships were made. The visit became a truly international event.

The warmhearted and enthusiastic welcome given to the choir remained evident throughout the visit. Visits to the Rathaus, the Black Forest and the Swiss part of Rheinfelden on the opposite bank of the majestic Rhine organised by our generous hosts provided a tasteful flavour of the area.

The musical highlight of the visit was a joint concert with the local LiederlichenFeel-harmonika choir under the Vacone Dome where a capacity audience enjoyed a varied programme, the climax of which was a joint rendering in German of a well-rehearsed drinking song, sung to perfection.

The prolonged standing ovation at the end was an emotional experience which will remain etched on the memories of choristers for a long time.

Well-deserved presentations were then made to the choir's talented and inspiring musical team of musical director Dorothy Connell, accompanist Emma Arscott, interpreter and guide Brigitte Katzer and chairman and compere Gareth Roberts, who in turn presented the members of the LiederlichenFeel-harmonika with traditional Welsh love spoons.

Burgemeister Rolf Karrer beamed even more when presented with a bottle of Penderyn whisky: "The best there is," was his comment.

The choir's final appearance on Sunday at the Catholic church again underlined the link between Rheinfelden and the Vale. Kurt Matschulat who, together with the choir's Mike Stanley, was long involved in the twinning process and who had masterminded the planning of the visit, was presented with a bottle of our famous Welsh whisky.

Mike Stanley's presentation would be made back in Barry! The surprise of the day was when a member of the regular congregation suddenly realised that she was listening to the Barry Male Voice Choir.

Erika Bark excitedly approached John and June Donovan, invited them back to her Rhineland home where over coffee on the balcony, Erika and her daughter Christina spoke warmly of her long friendship with Tony Hopkins (Vic Hopkins butchers) and his wife Heidi. What a small world! Choir chairman Gareth Roberts commented: "The Barry Male Voice Choir is proud to have represented the Vale of Glamorgan on this visit. We hope that we have helped to strengthen even further the bond that exists between Rheinfelden and the Vale of Glamorgan. The whole visit has been a total success and the assistance received from the Vale Council and the Rheinfelden Council is most appreciated."

Choir secretary Richard King added: "While in Rheinfelden, our choir unexpectedly became the focus of a harmonious musical European event: choir supporters have travelled from as far as Madrid, Zurich, Gauda (Holland), Heidelberg and Bognor Regis to be with us. Our magnetic power of attraction has surprised us!"

"Our annual concert will be easier to attend and will be held at St Helen's Church, Barry, on Friday June 26, when we look forward to welcoming old and new supporters. Full details will be available soon on our website, Facebook and Twitter."

'Big Talent' youngsters show big heart for people of Nepal

MY daughter, Shelley Norton, runs The Big Talent School – www.thebigtalent.co.uk – and we recently held a cake sale to raise some money for the Nepal earthquake appeal and some of the 'Big Talenters' and their families made cakes which we sold at our classes.

The youngsters are all aware of what has happened in Nepal and how so many children and their families have lost everything and are living in horrible circumstances, and indeed, how many thousands of children have died and they just wanted to do something to help.

Many of our Big Talent students are from the Vale, Barry, Penarth and Cardiff and we meet on Saturdays at Channel View Centre in Grangetown.

Motion Control Dance gains charity status

MOTION Control Dance (MCD) has achieved charity status and is now an independent Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) registered number 1161551, it was announced this week.

Director Emma Mallam said: "MCD mission statement reflects its aims to 'advance the education of people all ages, living in the Vale of Glamorgan and the surrounding areas, in the performing arts, particularly the art of dance, for the benefit of the public, in particular through the provision of classes, training, workshops and performance opportunities.

"As an organisation, we are working to set up partnership projects in the Vale of Glamorgan, working across the spectrum and communities focussing on young people and adults with disabilities, mental health issues, obesity problems, the older generation, ethnic groups – as well as socially deprived members of the community – to increase general health and well being, through the medium of dance.

"We will undertake this work with a strong staff team and volunteers," she added.

The Mayor of the Vale, Coun Fred Johnson and the Mayor of Penarth, Coun Rosemary Cook, with staff and pupils from Headlands School.

Cyclists will carry Penarth pilgrimage pebbles to Spain

ACTION for Children Headlands School, Penarth is embarking on a special sponsored cycle ride along the historical pilgrimage route the Camino De Santiago.

The route starts in Southern France, then up and over the Pyrenees mountain range and along the width of Northern Spain to the Atlantic Ocean (800km/500 miles).

One of the most compelling stops on the Camino de Santiago will be the Cruz de Ferro (Iron Cross). Travellers typically carry a stone or pebble from home on their journey.

Upon arriving at the Cruz, they see a mound with a large, thin monument, topped by a cross. The mound is made of all the pebbles and stones left behind by thousands of travellers from all over the world through the ages.

The Vale group plan to add pebbles from Penarth beach to the mound.

Julian McTavish, from Action for Children Headlands School, said: "To me and to the committed pilgrims, the stone represents all the physical, mental, and even spiritual that weighs you down in life.

"And whether you realise it, acknowledge it, or deny it – that stone follows you on your journey."

The Mayor of the Vale, Coun Fred Johnson, and the Mayor of Penarth, Coun Rosemary Cook, have handed over the pebbles from Penarth beach and wished the team a safe journey and good luck with their fundraising.

VALE MP's VIEWPOINT

Encouraging new businesses to bloom in the Vale

IN all parts of the Vale, I always spend time talking with independent high street traders.

I have an enormous amount of respect for anyone running a small business in the Vale – they took a risk and built a business to provide for themselves and their family.

The pressure of opening the doors every morning to trade successfully, day after day, should never be underestimated.

What I am keen to encourage is the taking away of barriers to further success, and for more people to take the plunge and start their own business in the Vale – opening a new shop and creating new and interesting jobs for local people.

My ongoing campaign to secure regeneration of Barry Island is all about creating an environment where people are able to invest in the Vale with confidence – just like the Danter family.

One of the common topics that I regularly discuss is car parking, it's an issue as important in Barry as it is right across the Vale.

From a high street trader's point of view – they want customers to be able to park near to the shops and businesses, while local residents and visitors want to be able to park conveniently close to a wide choice of retailers.

The local authority has an important role to play in creating a fertile trading environment. The best way of achieving a balance that allows traders to be successful should be considered carefully, with the aim of encouraging customers to choose shopping in the Vale over nearby Cardiff.

Quite simply, any plans that could have an impact on businesses in the Vale should be undertaken in conjunction with traders.

High Streets need to be seen as customer friendly – I want to see more people from across south Wales coming to the Vale to shop, and fewer going to Cardiff, because local shops have been supported in the right way and allowed to thrive.

More can be done, traders can come forward with suggestions on how to improve our retail offering and car parking provision on every high street. I would like to organise a quarterly meeting with traders from every town and village in the Vale.

Please get in touch if you would like to come along and offer some input into how we can allow local traders to operate successfully in our wonderful towns and villages.

Independent councillor hits out...

'There is never enough money for Dinas Powys'

by GEM REPORTER

A Dinas Powys councillor claims the needs of the village are being neglected by the Vale Council.

Independent councillor Chris Williams maintained there was lack of financial support for things such as the bridge on Cross Common Road and safe pathways.

He told The GEM: "The hard-working, long-suffering villagers of Dinas Powys must not be held to ransom in order to be given a safer junction to replace the decayed Cross Common road bridge which serves the south of the village."

"When I was offered a choice between a wider bridge or a new junction back in 2001, I assumed that it would be built in a year or maybe two – but no, I have learned that the Vale Council, which is located in Barry, is reluctant to serve areas like ours where the two largest political groups in the UK are consistently overlooked in local elections. The Labour party does not even put up candidates for local elections any more!"

Coun Williams said that while 'cycle ways' proliferate elsewhere, Dinas Powys was a notable exception.

"When I campaign for a safe cycle and walkway to enable our children to cycle and walk in and out of our village, there is never enough money for our needs."

"Instead, I see cycleways created elsewhere with little cost-benefit results."

"We in this village are being told to accept 50 houses (on fields off Cross Common Road, opposite Hebron Hall) which we do not need, on land which is susceptible to flooding, creating more traffic, more pollution, more sewage which could well be dumped in the Severn estuary at Barry – all this in order to replace a dangerous, narrow bridge, which would have been replaced decades ago if it were in Barry."

Coun Williams has been in touch with Welsh Water, which has carried out tests locally, to raise his concerns about potential flooding, and sewage disposal if housing goes ahead.

He said he was also concerned that the former St Cyres site, which is 33 acres, was being offered to developers, and insisted: "I'm not giving up on it – it should be for community use."

He added: "Whether it is a new bridge, a safe pathway, a sports facility, or a couple of quid on our birthday, there is never enough money for Dinas Powys."

• As The GEM was going to press, we received a detailed response from Coun Lis Burnett, the Vale Council cabinet member for regeneration.

In the response, she makes it clear that she does not agree with Coun Williams' comments.

We will be publishing Coun Burnett's response in next week's GEM.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Branch Manager Phil Powell feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Vale, Bridgend, RCT and Porthowl areas and Phil is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Phil a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

VALE PHOTOGRAPHIC CLUB NEWS

Sanctuary gives members the chance to snap birds!

THIS month saw one of the most enjoyable practical evenings we've had for some time and on behalf of the club, I extend a massive thank you to the staff from the Festival Park Owl Sanctuary (www.theowlsanctuary.co.uk).

The Sanctuary brought along a mix of birds for members to photograph, ranging from ridiculously cute and cuddly babies, through to mightily impressive owls and birds of prey.

The weather was kind, allowing perches to be set up both inside and outside Ystradowen Village Hall, providing fantastic photographic opportunities for members.

Malcolm Jones, a retired steel worker, who has dedicated his life to caring and rehabilitating birds of prey, runs the sanctuary. Based on the old Garden Festival site in Ebbw Vale, their funding is totally dependent on visitor donations and income generated through appearances at shows, fetes and educational school visits.

They certainly provided a fantastic evening for us and we'd highly recommend them to others.

This month also saw the annual award of the Mervyn Williams' memorial trophy, our award to the best B&W photograph in memory of Mervyn who was one of the founder members of the club.

This year the trophy went to Terry Verrinder for his photograph of a street scene in Limoux, France.

As our regular club evenings draw to a close, it's time for us to turn our attention to our summer programme of photographic challenges – we provide a full range of suggested photographic subjects each week throughout the summer for members to photograph, meeting up in the Farmers Arms pub (Aberthyn) on a Friday evening (8.30pm-ish) for a social evening and catch up.

Further information is available on the website, and potential new members are welcome to join us.

For further information on the club, which is open to ages 16 and over (16-18 year olds must be accompanied by an adult), visit our website at www.vale-photographic-club.co.uk.

Whether you're looking to develop your skills as a serious photographer, just starting out with a new camera, or simply looking to take better photographs of the kids, you'll be most welcome.

Classic car show breaks record at Dinas Powys

MODERN and classic Mercedes, Ferraris and Jaguars were among the cars put on show to the public in Sully at the weekend, as part of a Rotary Club of Dinas Powys charity fundraising event.

The third Vale of Glamorgan Classic Car Show took place at the Sully Sports and Social Club grounds and with an entry of over 300 cars and motorbikes exhibiting the excellent weather contributed to a record crowd.

This year's event, as nominated by president Colin Jones, raised money for Wales Air Ambulance and other local charities.

Dinas Powys Rotary Club member and classic car enthusiast David Wiltshire said: "We hosted the first show two years ago as an experiment, but were encouraged to make it an annual event when around 140 cars turned up and helped raise much money for our nominated charity at the time, Motor Neurone, and other local charities."

He said: "What started as a small event for friends and locals, quickly gathered momentum. Last year we had approximately 180 cars on display and 1,500 visitors."

"With the larger space available at the Sully Sports and Social Club and with word and media coverage spreading, this year we had roughly double the number of cars and visitors."

As well as a host of unusual and often extremely expensive supercars there were interesting historic vehicles including a 1928 Morris Empire, 1934

The car of the show, Mr Peter Wood and his 1938 Wolseley 10-40.

Singer Le Mans and a 1927 Talbot.

The estimated 2,000 visitors who attended were granted exceptional weather in which to enjoy a live band, a bar, the cars and bikes, refreshments, side stalls of motoring memorabilia and a classic fun fair.

David added that the Dinas Powys Rotary Club has no plans to put the brakes on the event any time soon and is already looking forward to next year's event.

He said: "It is firmly established both as a classic car show and a community event. The feedback from exhibitors and visitors has been great and it has the added bonus of raising funds for our nominated charity and important local amenities. We have already confirmed the date for next year as Monday, May 30."

Donna dedicates her 50th birthday to Marie Curie...

DONNA SURRIDGE marked her 50th birthday "a little differently" this year ... when with the help of colleagues and pupils at Ysgol Sant Baruc, she decided to raise money for the Marie Curie charity.

So far Donna has taken part in Swimathon, swimming 100 lengths, raising £200 and organised a disco for the school children in the school hall raising £401.

"As I suffer with re-occurring skin cancer, I strongly believe that it's important to help these charities, so that people can seek help when it's needed, and to raise awareness of the wonderful work undertaken by Marie Curie and all their volunteers," she explained.

"I'd like to thank the parents, staff and pupils of Ysgol Sant Baruc for supporting me through my personal battle with skin cancer. I'd also like to pay tribute to

"I will continue to do all I can to raise money for this amazing charity and to urge others to join in any way they can."

the Cardiff and Vale Hospice, said: "This donation will help us support patients with terminal illnesses and their families locally.

"We offer a number of different services from the hospice including in patient wards, day therapy unit, a helper service and carers service."

Consultant off to Nepal to aid disaster victims

AN ABMU consultant is flying to Nepal this summer, to help victims of the earthquake disaster.

Urologist Amol Pandit will be part of a team from south Wales that will spend a week in hospitals in Kathmandu and in rural communities.

Although the arrangements for the trip in early July have not yet been finalised, six to eight clinicians from University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff, and Morriston in Swansea will be involved.

Mr Pandit, who works mainly in Morriston and Neath Port Talbot hospitals, said he hoped one or two of his ABMU colleagues would join him.

Everyone involved will give up their own time to join the mission, and will pay their own costs.

Mr Pandit said: "We will not have a planned list. We will just go there and see what we can do to help in the theatres in the main hospital in Kathmandu and in rural hospitals.

"We will be using our expertise to help local doctors get the best support to deliver the treatment that is needed.

"I don't expect there to be much urology work, so I will do whatever I can to help, even if that is just assisting in the operating theatres."

Last month's earthquake left more than 8,000 people dead and more than 18,000 injured.

As well as medical expertise, the south Wales team will be taking a cash donation to the Nepal Disaster Fund.

The money will be raised at a special performance by world-class Kathak dancer Swati Wangnoo Tiwari in National Museum Cardiff's Reardon Smith Theatre on Monday, June 15 at 7pm. Tickets cost £20. To reserve a ticket to collect on the door, email apandit@sky.com.

Mr Pandit said: "I hope people will buy tickets and attend the concert to show support. As we are taking the money to Nepal there will be no administration cost, so every penny raised will go to the people who need it."

Answer the hedgehog SOS!

HEDGEHOGS are now as endangered as the tiger. This means they are on the critical list: pesticides, predation and loss of habitat, are all underlying problems and if we don't do anything, the humble hedgehog will be gone in the next decade.

Can you imagine the UK without the hedgehog? I certainly can't. So what can we do?

Hedgehogs travel over an area about the size of two football fields to find food. As well as roads, we have put walls and fences in their way, because we build boundaries in our gardens to separate them from neighbours.

Now, of course, we all want a little privacy, but if you put a hedgehog-sized hole in the bottom of the fence or remove a brick from the wall, the hedgehogs have a safe travel pass across the gardens and can forage more widely.

Such a small thing can make a really big difference to the life of the hedgehog and in return, they will eat your slugs and snails.

Don't use slug pellets as these will also poison your hedgehogs!

For more information and ideas, go to <http://www.hedgehogstreet.org/pages/link-your-garden.html> and if you find a hurt or sick hedgehog, ring South Wales hedgehog rescue on 07557 646773.

More affordable homes for rural Vale... Council's new LDP stands firm on housing numbers

THE Vale Council has released its finalised Local Development Plan (LDP), and anyone looking for a major change of direction will be disappointed.

In recent months, the GEM has received many letters from residents and it is likely that those who wrote about the lack of affordable housing in the Vale will be encouraged – while those looking for cuts in the number of houses to be built will be decidedly unhappy.

The council is planning for 10,450 homes to be built by 2026, while campaigners have argued that Welsh Government statistics support the view that only 5,800 need be planned.

However, the council points to a recent policy clarification letter by Carl Sargeant AM, the Minister for Housing and Regeneration, where it says: "For the avoidance of any future doubt, local authorities must seek to provide for the level of housing required as the result of the analysis of all relevant sources of evidence, rather than relying solely on the Welsh Government's housing projections."

The council says that a smaller total of homes is incompatible with its main focus, which is "the provision of the jobs, infrastructure and affordable housing, that make communities of all sizes sustainable".

In laymen's terms, the council seems to be arguing that if it plans to bring jobs into the Vale – and it has a target of more than 10,000 extra – then extra homes need to be there as well.

The three most important areas for planned employment growth are:

- Land south of Junction 34 of the M4 (51.1 hectares).
- Land adjacent to Cardiff Airport and Port Road, Rhoose (77.4 hectares).
- the Aerospace Business Park, St Athan Rhoose (305 hectares).

The council's review of the housing projection issue (which is 70 pages of complex statistical analysis) also insists that the lower housing provision figures are based on trends established during the housing crash, saying: "The Vale of Glamorgan, like other areas, has experienced extremely low house completion rates when compared to that of the pre-recession years."

REPORT by PHILIP IRWIN

Criticism over the decision to stay with the 10,450 homes figure is inevitable (The GEM has already received letters), but the council is aiming to deflect that criticism by increasing the percentage of affordable housing in developments – particularly in the rural Vale.

Coun Neil Moore, Leader of the Council, said: "The consultation process, coupled with the hard work of our planning officers, has ensured that we are absolutely confident that we now have a local development plan that is not only sound but is the best possible blueprint on which to continue the regeneration of the Vale."

"The plan sets out how the council will manage the use of land up until 2026. The number of homes for which land has been allocated within it remains at 10,450."

"However, on the basis of both responses to the consultation and recent trends in the housing market, the affordable housing targets set out in the plan have been increased from 30 per cent to 35 per cent in the rural south of the Vale (an area that includes Llantwit Major, Rhoose and St Athan) and from 35 per cent to 40 per cent in the rural east Vale and Penarth."

Affordable housing targets in Barry will remain at 30 per cent. The plan estimates that an additional 10,610 jobs could be created in the Vale and also sets out how the development of the county will be planned in order to reduce the number of residents who commute out of the county each day for work.

Coun Lis Burnett, cabinet member for regeneration, said: "This plan is about building communities, not houses. That is why it focuses on the jobs and infrastructure that sustain communities, and the affordable housing that allows local people to set up home in them."

"Our LDP includes proposals for job creation, maintaining community services and providing new transport infrastructure. This is the blueprint by which we will continue to regenerate all areas of the Vale."

Coun Chris Franks (Plaid Cymru) said many people will be disappointed with the report. He said, "Apart from individual sites, there is a great deal of concern about the sheer number of houses."

"Plaid exposed the weakness in the projected housing need by quoting the Welsh Government's own figures. We have proved that the Vale needs nearer half the number proposed."

"So the Vale Council has been forced to desperately include additional considerations to seek to justify the numbers."

"Also the routes of potential by-passes around Dinas Powys and Llysorwney have been specifically excluded from the plan."

"There is little response regarding residents' concerns that the road infrastructure is not able to cope with this extra traffic generated by 10,000 properties.

"Again there is little reference to rail services. The Welsh Government has failed to ensure the services to Cardiff and Bridgend are upgraded to cope with the demand."

"The Vale Council and the Welsh Government simply want more houses and they are determined to have their way."

Tim Knowles is a regular letter writer to The GEM and he said: "I have read the report on the consultation and many relevant parts of the appendices."

"I have been horrified to find that the detailed objections and comments of the many residents who have participated in the consultation have been ignored."

"If ever there was a case of 'We have made up our minds and will not be confused by the facts', this is it."

The report on the new LDP will now go through the authority's committee system before being presented to a full council meeting on June 24.

If approved at this meeting, the plan and supporting documentation will then be submitted to Welsh Government and the Planning Inspectorate for independent examination.

Following completion of the examination, the inspector will issue a report which may recommend further changes to the LDP. Any recommendations will be binding.

Charity seeks to help Haiti

A CHARITY group that is raising funds to help the people of Haiti – 'the poorest country in the western hemisphere' – is to ask the Vale Council to consider making a twinning arrangement with part of the island.

It is five years since a devastating earthquake struck Haiti. Around 200,000 people lost their lives as a result.

The charity 'Haiti Hospital Appeal' continues to raise funds for the island and to date it has built a sports centre and a hospital – the hospital includes a spinal care unit, all with state-of-the-art equipment.

Godfrey Knight, a spokesman for the Barry fundraisers, said their next event will be a concert at Holy Trinity Church, Barry, featuring the Barry Male Voice Choir, at a date yet to be announced.

Mr Knight said: "Vale AM Jane Hutt and Michelle Smith are honorary patrons of the appeal, and Ms Hutt has agreed to approach the Vale Council to see if a twinning arrangement can be put in place."

"There is a precedent for this in Germany, where some university cities have twinned with towns in Equatorial Africa for many years."

San Andreas smashes and crashes – BUT FEELS ALL TOO FAMILIAR

It just isn't blockbuster season without Dwayne Johnson.

Having already showed up in Fast & Furious 7, the action hero now takes headline position in San Andreas. Johnson plays Ray, a rescue-chopper pilot who, when a gigantic earthquake hits California, must embark on a dangerous journey to rescue his ex-wife Emma (Carla Gugino) and his estranged daughter Blake (Alexandra Daddario) who are caught up in the disaster... On the face of it, San Andreas feels like a riff on the disaster films of yesteryear – the 'super-size' natural disaster that strikes, the heroic male lead, the ex-wife/daughter in peril (two for the price of one here) and more bang and action for your buck than usual.

It's certainly a film unabashed in its use of familiar tropes to create a viewing experience for the audience, but is it all brawn and little brain?

The answer is yes, San Andreas is a film that spares no expense in showing nature at its most destructive, but beneath the wanton destruction there's only predictable characters and story elements.

Of course, the film isn't aiming for the moon, nor does it have any pretensions to be anything more than popcorn fodder, and in that sense it works out just fine. You have the always watchable, always dependable Dwayne Johnson as the hero of the piece, and there is little this man could do on screen that you would want to avoid.

He is a staggeringly charismatic presence on screen, and the same goes here, his usual heroic bombast dialled down a degree as a man on a mission to save his family from the disasters around them. His skills patently lie in this genre, but when asked to dig a little deeper he certainly shows more acting ability than some of his fellow action stars.

Both Carla Gugino and Alexandra Daddario are thankfully given a little more depth than pure damsels in distress, both having their moments to shine, particularly the latter, whose resourcefulness manages to save the day for two British brothers she finds herself allied with, while Paul Giamatti fills the role of 'experienced actor offering gravitas' as a professor capable of predicting the earthquakes adequately.

The real star of the show here is the earthquake and the perilous set-pieces our characters must navigate in order to survive, and with credit to director Brad Peyton, he does a sterling job.

His CV isn't the greatest (Cats & Dogs: The Revenge of Kitty Galore anyone?) but Peyton seems well-versed in the disaster movie conventions and creates some genuinely thrilling and well-staged moments of action, in particular Emma's attempted escape from a building as the first stage of the earthquake strikes.

But as thrilling and cleverly executed as these set-pieces are, you can't help but feel a sense of déjà vu; after all, what is a blockbuster film these days without some city being smashed to smithereens by either a disaster, an alien invasion or a battle between super-powered beings?

As impressive as the action is, it feels all too familiar, while a gag concerning one character's demise falls flat when innocents around that person are also killed; realistic, yes, but a moment that other films have executed far better and with a greater sense of satisfaction (see Gennaro's death in Jurassic Park as evidence of this).

It all adds up to something that oozes blockbuster scale and scope, but doesn't really grab you; you do care about the characters (mainly thanks to the actors in those roles) but you can see the outcome a mile away, and what's another city being destroyed in the grand filmic scheme of things?

Ultimately, it makes San Andreas a pleasing, but very slight and overly-familiar, offering.

VERDICT – An action blockbuster headlined by Dwayne Johnson is always a good bet, but San Andreas doesn't quite hit the mark. Its carnage is staged surprisingly well by director Brad Peyton, and the cast do a decent job, but it's a case of destruction familiarity breeding audience contempt, the main selling point of the film being a case of 'seen-it-all-before', which lessens the impact of this disaster flick. Average.

SEE THIS IF YOU LIKED: The Day After Tomorrow (2004), Twister (1996).

Social bingo

LAST month's social bingo session in Cowbridge proved its usual success and won two lines this time, not just his usual one!

Two young ladies shared a very generous Snowball – whatever that is. I assume they had to rush home and put it in the fridge for security!

There were other notable winners, but they refused to have their names publicised. I must find a way to stop people sending in begging letters!

Edwina, the raffle queen, was sunning herself on some tropical island, so Jan and her granddaughter Jordanne, carried out that task very efficiently. Many thanks to you both!

Do come along with your friends to our next meeting this evening (Thursday, May 4) at 7pm for 7.30pm at Lesser Hall, Cowbridge Town Hall. Don't forget to bring your bingo dabber and wine. See you there!

Call to help out at Victorian Fayre

THE organisers of Llantwit Major's Victorian Fayre are holding an information evening for potential volunteers this Sunday, June 7.

With the day less than three weeks away, the Llantwit Major Events Group are confident that they can build on the success of the Fayre two years ago, but volunteers are still needed to help the day go smoothly.

A spokesman said:

"More will be happening in the town, to give just one example, two years ago we had 30 stalls, whereas this time we are expecting 90!"

Volunteers are needed to help with general organisation in the morning as the streets are being prepared, and during the day. There will also be a curtain-raising event at Llantwit Major beach on Friday, June 19.

The volunteer meeting will be in the Heritage Centre (next to the Town hall) at 7pm on June 7.

THINGS STARTING TO BUZZ AT ABERTHAW...

The beekeeper checking on the Aberthaw bees.

THERE'S been a new delivery at the Aberthaw Cement Plant – of Apis mellifera – that's honey bees, for those who aren't familiar with all things small and buzzing!

We now have five bee colonies at the plant, helping the local ecological cycle and also supporting local farmers by pollinating crops, a spokesperson reports.

The cement plant has lots of areas, close to the quarry, that offer a lot of natural habitats, and facilitating biodiverse species on site is very important to the Lafarge Tarmac team. Tasked with supporting these aims, environmental coordinator Kara Bennett has championed the addition of the new bee hives to add to the site's wildlife population.

She explained: "Our site is positioned between two river estuaries, the River Thaw and the River Kenson. We have land near the quarry that we don't use specifically and which naturally offers sites of biodiversity.

"The quarry is already home to wetland birds and some species of newts, with regular visits by flocks of Canadian geese each year.

"Part of my role is to make the most of what the plant naturally has to offer and the unique environment of the quarry. Setting aside space for our new bee colonies seemed a natural enhancement that would support our biodiversity programme.

"The bee hives are being set up and will be looked after by our family of experienced bee keepers – the Frasures, who are helping colleagues at the site learn more about the bees and how to care for them on site," Kara added.

A FOUR-woman team of Glamorgan young farmers is celebrating success in the stockjudging competition at the Royal Bath and West Show, on Saturday.

Competitors were required to judge a ring of four animals based on their readiness for commercial sale. Placing the animals in order of suitability for the meat trade, competitors had a short time to write their reasons before presenting them to a judge within a two-minute time restriction.

The team, made up of Wick YFC and Neath YFC members did extremely well, with individual results as follows. Dairy: Catrin Hill first and Lowri Davies third. Beef: Catrin Hill second and Katie Evans third. Pigs: Angharad Williams first and Catrin Hill third. Lambs: Lowri Davies first. The team were placed second overall and individual stockman placing were awarded to Lowri in second place, closely followed by team mate Catrin in third place. Lowri said: "It's great to experience the competition away from our home turf and to be successful is just the icing on top of the cake."

I would recommend any young farmers or potential members to always take every opportunity that comes your way, as you never know where it will lead or who you will meet."

Flybe welcomed to Cardiff Airport

REGIONAL Conservative AM, Andrew R T Davies, has welcomed news that Flybe is to establish a new base at Cardiff Airport.

He commented this week: "This is welcome news for the airport, which relies on the availability of a wide range of routes to compete with nearby Bristol," adding: "The Welsh Government has ploughed a great deal of cash into Carwyn Jones' pet project, with little sign of meaningful improvement to date.

"Whilst the destinations that Flybe plans to serve will be attractive to Welsh trip-makers, it is vital that the airport is able to meet the needs of all potential passengers.

"Welsh Conservatives want to see the airport thriving so that taxpayers can see a return on their investment when it is eventually returned to private ownership," the South Wales Central AM concluded.

RAISING THE ROOF TO UPGRADE CONSERVATORIES

Once the preserve of the wealthy who wanted to cultivate exotic species of flora, today it's estimated that around one in five UK homes have a conservatory.

Offering additional light, with relatively fast construction times, up to 200,000 conservatories were built per year during the height of their popularity.

However, some homeowners found that the full glare of the sun in summer and chilly temperatures in winter made older conservatories uncomfortable, with the only solution being a costly rebuild.

The good news is that building technology has moved on and, as with glazing, there are some thermally efficient roof options now on the market that can be added to the existing conservatory structure.

'Activ' Glass roof

A straightforward upgrade for those who want to keep an uninterrupted view of the blue skies up above is to opt for a modern, low emissivity (low-e) 'Activ', energy efficient glass roof.

Helping to reduce the variations in temperature associated with older, traditional glass or polycarbonate roofs, 'Activ' low-e glass helps cut solar glare, protect furniture from fading and keep heat in during the winter months.

For even greater insulation there are now two solid roof options that can be retrofitted to an existing conservatory, without the need for significant structural modifications.

Tiled roof

The new, lightweight, tiled roof takes its design cues from the slates and tiles found on most UK houses. As a result it works well on most properties and comes in a range of finishes to match any existing architecture.

Created using aluminium panels, with Kingspan insulation, these roofs can achieve a u value of just 0.18, similar to that of a normally constructed, modern roof.

With this option, the interior of the conservatory can include a plastered ceiling with down-lighters or even roof windows to keep the view of the stars.

LiveinRoof

For a more contemporary feel, there is a third option called the LiveinRoof. This modern roof combines the sleek lines of a glass roof with the shade and thermal efficiency of a solid conservatory roof to create something that looks and feels very contemporary.

With the LiveinRoof, entire panels can be replaced with glass to create a hybrid solid and glass roof meaning the homeowner can choose where to have shaded areas and where to have more light.

Once again there is the option to plaster the interior ceiling and add down-lighters. The LiveinRoof also comes with the option of adding orangery detailing to enhance the interior and exterior styling of the conservatory.

POLICE URGE PUBLIC... 'Dial 101 if it's a non-emergency'

SOUTH Wales Police have launched an awareness campaign to let the public know that the best and quickest way to contact police is to dial 101 for all non-emergency calls.

Performance and response times for 101 in South Wales have vastly improved and calls are now picked up quickly 24 hours a day, seven days a week, say the Chief Constable and the Police and Crime Commissioner in a joint statement this week.

"Here in south Wales, calls to 101 – which is the national non-emergency police number which connects callers directly to the local police service – are being answered quicker than ever before and we are now getting consistent satisfaction from callers," they say. "Calling 101 costs only 15p, whether it is from a landline or a mobile phone, and no matter what time of day you call or how long you are on the phone."

ABERTHIN PUB TO OFFER A GOURMET EXPERIENCE

RIGHT:
Ton Watts Jones and Alex Howells (right) alongside the Hare and Hounds' vegetable garden

by PHILIP IRWIN

BIG changes are planned for the Hare and Hounds pub in Aberthin, now that chef Tom Watts Jones has returned to the Vale after completing his culinary education in London.

He is keen to match all he has learned in top restaurants with the quality local produce that is on his doorstep in the Vale.

Tom said: "After leaving Cowbridge Comprehensive School, I was lucky enough to be given my first post at Odette's, working for Bryn Williams".

Over his time in London, Tom extended his experience and his last post was as sous chef at the St John restaurant in Smithfield, run by Fergus Henderson and famous for its 'nose to tail' approach to cooking.

Work is under way to extend the dining room, where Tom plans to offer a seasonal menu that will change on a daily basis, while Alex Howells will be in charge of the bar, which will retain its traditional feel, although bar snacks cooked by the chef will offer something extra.

Alex said: "We will be keeping the popular

Hancocks HB and Wye Valley HPA, but introducing two guest ales which will change on a regular basis.

"Also, Tom will be preparing strawberry puree to serve in a strawberry prosecco, or sloe gins using local berries."

Welsh restaurants serving Welsh food are no surprise these days, but Tom is aiming for 'Vale of Glamorgan' food.

It helps that his parents farm six acres in the village, and to supplement that produce, vegetable gardens have been created in the pub's beer garden – which will offer al fresco dining when the weather allows.

Beef, pork, venison and lamb will, it goes without saying, be sourced very locally, although some of the fish and shellfish may have to travel all the way from Carmarthen!

A sample dessert is 'buttermilk pudding, honeycomb and strawberries'.

The following day (June 21) the restaurant opens in earnest, with a new menu.

The Vale is already a great place to eat out – and it could well be about to get even better!

Bridgend residents are asked to vote for favourite outdoor spot

LOCAL residents are being asked to vote for Bridgend county borough's most popular outdoor space.

They are invited to put forward their favourite parks, nature reserves, beaches, fields, woodlands, coastal paths and other open spaces by Bridgend County Borough Council (BCBC).

After a top 10 has been compiled, an online vote will determine the winner as part of BCBC's #MyGreenSpace campaign to encourage residents to enjoy the great and suggest ideas for making local beauty spots more accessible.

To share your favourite outdoor space in Bridgend county borough, Tweet @BridgendCBC using the hashtag #MyGreenSpace or email biodiversity@bridgend.gov.uk.

One lucky person who nominates their favourite place will be selected to win a special Family Ranger Experience at Bryngarw House and Country Park for four people.

Coun Hywel Williams, the council's cabinet member for communities, said: "This campaign provides an opportunity for people to highlight the outdoor spaces that are important to them. It could be a well-known place that springs to mind such as Rest Bay, or Newbridge Fields, or it could be a lesser known gem that means a lot to you and your family.

"The reasons for why that place is so special could vary from it being a perfect spot for a pushchair stroll, a picnic, a run, or somewhere you like to relax.

"There will be so many reasons, and the campaign will give people a chance to shout about why they love these places so much.

"As ever, we'd also like to encourage people to contact the council to highlight any issues surrounding fly-tipping and general littering that are spoiling our green spaces."

The problems can be reported to the council by calling 01656 643643, or by emailing talktous@bridgend.gov.uk

The Vale Council has announced details of its finalised Local Development Plan (LDP). Here are two responses from GEM readers...

Darren Farm: change of Plan

THE Deposit LDP consultation representations summary report and council responses, together with the schedule of proposed focused changes, were presented to the Vale Council cabinet for approval this week.

This will be followed by consideration for comment by the three relevant council committees during June and by full council for final approval on June 24, before submission to the Welsh Government for independent examination.

Among the proposed changes is an enlargement of the site of the proposed housing, school and link road development at Darren Farm Cowbridge by 60 per cent over the area proposed in the Deposit LDP, making an even larger negative impact on this important rural landscape.

Even more worrying is that the plan of the modified site is neither the original one nor the amended one (ASA 11) proposed in the alternative site consultation process by Asbri Consultants, on behalf of the landowner.

Instead, the western boundary of the new site follows the exact line of the link road proposed in the premature CEG planning application, which has yet to be determined by the planning committee, giving it a status which could prejudice the decision of that committee.

The focused changes report also recommends an increase in the proportion of affordable homes for housing developments in most of the rural Vale from 35 per cent to 40 per cent.

This would make such housing (a discount to market prices) less affordable in an area where market prices are the highest in the Vale.

It compares illogically with 35 per cent for Llantwit Major, Rhosce and St Athan and 30 per cent for Barry; areas which provide far more local employment opportunities than the rural Vale.

The proposed changes will be submitted for public consultation to be announced in July, which will provide residents with an opportunity to respond to these proposed changes.

INFRASTRUCTURE NOT A CONSTRAINING FACTOR?

THE Vale Council has responded to my comments on the latest draft Local Development Plan: it was within the 10 appendices attached to the cabinet report last week.

Readers may want to see the complete response which can be found on page 445 of the 3,386 paged Appendix 2.

One of my main concerns has always been the effect housing developments will have on Barry town's infrastructure, especially the loss of businesses; amenities; facilities; townscapes, and the impact on the strategic road network.

The council's response was: "The LDP is supported by a substantial evidence base regarding infrastructure and site deliverability. Detailed site assessments have been undertaken on the allocated sites and the council considers these to provide a range and choice of deliverable sites. Infrastructure is therefore not considered to be a key constraining factor in delivery of growth provided for in the Deposit LDP."

I cannot see what connection there is between the council's conclusion and the initial two sentences and I was particularly struck by the reference to 'a substantial evidence base' and that infrastructure is 'not considered to be a key constraining factor'.

One document within that 'evidence base' is the 'Highway Impact Assessment' September 2013. Pages 43 and 44 of a complex report sets out a summary of junction capacities and the strategic road junctions impacting on traffic from Barry make interesting reading: nine were judged to be already 'over capacity', and all 12 junctions 'over capacity' by 2026. Thousands more houses – and the infrastructure is not a constraining factor?

The social secretary reminded members of days out and holidays enjoyed during the last year and of plans for future outings.

Current members of the committee agreed to remain in office for a further year as the meeting voted unanimously that they were doing an excellent job.

Special thanks were given to Mr Lyndon Richards who works incredibly hard tracking down and booking interesting speakers for the monthly meetings.

Business having been concluded chairperson Valerie Lyndon announced that she had a surprise for those present – in the form of a strawberry and cream tea, which included some delicious scones made by a member of Bethel Baptist Church.

AGM meetings are usually thought of as boring affairs, but this was certainly not the case at Barry U3A!

How moving letters home brought World War vividly to life in Porthcawl

by Ceri Joseph of Porthcawl Museum

'I am at Brudehaus, Paderborn, Westphalia, Germany.' (Porthcawl News, June 3, 1915.)

On reading these words, a great relief was felt by Mr and Mrs David Williams, Elmdene, New Road, Porthcawl; their son, Brynmor, had not been heard of since the Battle of Hill 60 south of Ypres, April 22, 1915.

Brynmor, who had emigrated to Canada in 1912, had joined the 10th Battalion, 'B' Company Canadian Infantry on September 24, 1914, aged 18. The unit proceeded to train at Salisbury Plain, landing in France, early 1915.

The Second Battle of Ypres, in 1915, was the first major action for the Canadian Division. It was, also, the first instance on the Western Front of the use of poison gas as a weapon of war.

In his letter home, Brynmor wrote that he had been wounded in the head and leg, was doing fine, but would his family send him cake and cigarettes. Such requests seem strange in hindsight, as many of us are aware of the atrocities that took place in POW Camps during World War Two.

However, it seems when reading Brynmor's letters and other similar letters, that many POW camps in World War One adhered to a more moral, gentlemanly approach.

Private Gwilym Loveluck, 1st Monmouthshire Regiment following his capture on May 8, 1915, wrote home from the Geissen Camp, Germany to his parents at 46 Mary Street, Porthcawl: 'I should like you to send me a couple of parcels every week, regularly. I think the best food you could send would be bread, cheese, dry biscuits, corned beef, cocoa, tea, sugar, butter, Welsh cakes and salt.' (Porthcawl News June 3, 1915.)

It reads like a shopping list, yet the volume of food parcels being sent to Germany caused the War Office to issue an appeal that: 'Bread sent to Germany should be very well baked. It should not be packed in tins, but carefully wrapped in greaseproof paper, then placed in a stout cardboard box.' (Porthcawl News June 17, 1915.) 'Bread in bad condition makes it uneatable before it reaches prisoners.'

An estimated 192,000 British and Commonwealth prisoners were taken during World War One. Overall, these prisoners were speedily repatriated between the end of December 1918 and the beginning of February 1919. Gwilym arrived in Porthcawl in December 1918, settled here, married in 1938, and died in 1970.

Brynmor arrived home in February 1919, returned to Canada where in 1921, he was joined by his mother and sisters following the death of his father. He later moved to California, became an American citizen in 1948 and died in 1964.

Another four Porthcawlians were discovered to be POWs during the war, whose stories will be told at a later date.

Brynmor wasn't the only Porthcawl man to return, following emigration. Norman Cave Young returned from Australia at the outbreak of war and enlisted into the South Wales Borderers.

The Porthcawl News

June 3, 1915 reported that at 18 years old, 2nd Lieutenant Norman Young of 'Wellville' Newton, Porthcawl, had been one of the youngest to receive a commission in the regiment. On January 15, 1917 he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps where, in April the same year, he was appointed as a Flight Officer to the 35th Squadron.

On April 23 over Arras where the 35th was providing air cover to the Cavalry Corps Norman incurred severe damage to his leg, resulting in its amputation and the fitting of a metal prosthetic limb.

On return to duty in February 1918 he was transferred to the Observer Corps, as a Flight Lieutenant. In July 1918, he took part in bombing missions over France in an Armstrong Whitworth FK8.

After being granted his 'demob' papers in April 1919 Lt Yonge moved to Kenya, probably on an ex-service man's re-settlement scheme and ran a coffee farm, where he died in the early 1950s.

In June 1915, Elsie Thomas of 'South View', Victoria Avenue, Porthcawl, on completion of her three-year training at the Great Northern Hospital, Holloway Road, London qualified as a staff nurse.

Before the month was out, she had applied to the War Office to serve in the Queen's Alexandra Imperial Military Nursing Service Reserve. As war casualties increased, so did the need for more qualified nurses.

To overcome the rule that QAIMNS nurses were to be unmarried, the War Office employed qualified nurses to the QAIMNS Reserve on short-term contracts, which could be renewed each year as the war progressed. After World War One these contracts were ended and the nurses returned to civilian nursing.

Elsie Thomas was accepted into the service on June 25, 1915 and was posted to Alexandria, Egypt on August 23, 1915.

Staff Nurse Thomas served at the Ras-el-Tin Military hospital for a year during which time she nursed many wounded but one soldier, 2nd Lieutenant Eric MacDougall, Highland Light Infantry became very special to her.

According to their granddaughter Maggie Macdougall, their time in Egypt together was one of great happiness, despite the horrors surrounding them, as it was there that they met and fell in love.

At the end of her year's contract, Elsie returned to England on HMS Britannic (Titanic's sister ship) on October 12, 1916 possibly as a consequence of Eric being repatriated.

They married on July 8, 1918 in Essex and were to have two children. Elsie was brought to England on HMS Britannic's fourth voyage between Britain and Mudros.

Upon its sixth voyage to the Mediterranean it hit a German mine on Elsie and future husband, Eric, at the military hospital.

November 21, 1916. MP Shirley Williams' mother, Vera Brittain, was one of the survivors; as was Nurse Violet Jessop who had the uncanny notoriety of being the only person to travel on the Titanic, Olympic, and Britannic and survive!!

On the home front, indication of an intensive recruitment drive could be witnessed in the prevalence of propaganda poems being printed in local newspapers; and here in Porthcawl, an over-enthusiastic recruitment sergeant-major King caused a riot in John Street.

Local civilians were unimpressed with his overbearing manner toward new recruits and openly expressed their anger, resulting in the officer drawing a revolver and a civilian being put under arrest.

It is only to be hoped that Canadian soldiers visiting from Ash Hall Auxiliary Hospital, Cowbridge, did not visit Porthcawl on the same day.

Changing Education in Barry

You may agree with

to the council's chosen proposal

The Vale of Glamorgan Council propose to merge the existing boys' & girls' secondary schools in Barry. Their preferred option is ill conceived, poorly planned and under funded. They are calling it 'the proposal'.

Why vote no? As parents:

The council's proposed option:

- will create the biggest secondary school in Wales.
- will move the Welsh medium secondary school into the current Bryn Hafren site of 40 year old buildings.
- will put the 'new' English medium secondary school on a split site.
- has NO guarantee of funding from the Welsh Assembly Government to complete the proposal.

Do you want your child in a secondary school with up to 2400 pupils?

Do you want your child in a year group that has 14 form groups?

Do you want the Welsh medium school to be moved to older facilities than they currently have?

Do you want your child going to a secondary school that has been moved into 40-year-old buildings?

Do you want your child going through 3 years of disruption and movement between multiple school sites?

The overwhelming majority of education professionals in the Barry Schools are opposed to any proposal to develop such a huge school. They want what is best for the children of Barry and they want good educational reasons for this reorganisation. As educationalists they view option 3 as the ideal proposal. Vote with the professionals;

Vote NO to the proposal!

Consultation is ongoing until the 6th July.

Estate agent sponsors 9th Mair's Walk for Velindre

ESTATE Agent Herbert R Thomas (HRT) has announced it will be sponsoring the popular Mair's Walk on Sunday (June 7). The Vale company, which has an office in Bridgend town centre, has sponsored the t-shirts for the event, which starts at 11am.

Mair's Walk was set up by Mair ap Gruffydd, when she was given just a 50 per cent chance of living two years, after being diagnosed with lung cancer.

Now in its ninth year, the hugely popular event attracts over 1,000 walkers every year and has collectively raised over £188,000 for lung cancer research at Velindre Hospital.

This year, Olympic medallist Jamie Baulch will be leading the three-mile sponsored walk from Bridgend Recreation Centre to Ogmere Farm via Merthyr Mawr and the Stepping Stones.

Once the walk has been completed, there will be a refreshments marquee at Ogmere

Farm where there will be a performance by Bridgend Male Voice Choir, as well as a funfair for children to enjoy. There will also be a prize for the best fancy dress, which is optional to all participants and a raffle.

James Mordecai, partner at HRT, said: "We are thrilled to support Mair's Walk once again. Mair is a truly inspirational woman who has been instrumental in raising a significant sum of money for lung cancer research at Velindre Hospital.

"Since opening our third office in Bridgend last year, we have been actively involved in the Bridgend community. We will have a team taking part in the challenge and we hope to see lots of people supporting the event and wearing the Mair's Walk t-shirts. We're sure it will be great day for everyone involved."

Mair ap Gruffydd, said: "I think everyone has been affected by cancer in some way, which is why so many people come together and show their support.

"It really is rewarding to see thousands of Bridgend residents taking part. Velindre Hospital makes a massive difference to those suffering from cancer and its research is instrumental in helping us find a cure for this cruel disease. We rely heavily on the support of local companies like HRT to help us run and organise the event. Due to the generosity of our sponsors, we can ensure all money goes to charity and not to running the event.

"There's going to be plenty of things to do after the walk for all the family, so we hope we will have a great turnout once again – fingers crossed the weather is on our side!"

Online registration is open but you can also register on the day for £10 from 9:30am at the bowls area at the Rec.

Early registration is recommended as a limited number of free Mair's Walk t-shirts will be available to participants.

Entry for children under 16 is free, but there will be a £5 fee for a t-shirt.

CARERS WEEK

8th-14th June 2015

IMPROVING THE LIVES OF CARERS AND THE PEOPLE THEY CARE FOR

Unsung heroes are recognised as... THE NEST SCHEME MARKS CARERS' WEEK IN WALES

THE Welsh Government's Nest scheme is supporting Carers' Week at an event on Thursday, June, 11 at Cardiff City Stadium from 10am to 3pm.

Carers' Week, which runs from June 8 to 14, is an annual campaign that raises awareness of caring; highlights the challenges carers face; and recognises the contribution they make to families and communities throughout the UK.

The Staying Well event will provide free advice on healthy eating and staying active and highlight the support available to carers.

Set up by Cardiff and the Vale councils and the Cardiff and Vale University Health Board, the event looks to highlight the role of family carers during the UK-wide Carers' Week.

The Nest team will be on hand to provide advice on saving energy and help to reduce the cost of energy bills.

In addition to advice, if you own or privately rent a home that is hard to heat and receive a means tested benefit, you may also be eligible for free home improvements from Nest.

These may include a replacement boiler, central heating system or insulation.

WIDE SUPPORT

Lee Parry, head of Nest, said: "Nest offers a wide range of support to help people who are struggling to heat their homes and worry about their energy bills."

"Over 17,000 householders have received free home improvements and saved an average of £475 a year on their energy costs."

Nest can be contacted on Freephone 0808 808 2244, or visit www.nestwales.org.uk for advice on reducing energy bills – to find out if you qualify for a package of home energy improvements.

Plan ahead with PASSMORES...

LAWYERS around Wales and England are running a national 'Make a Lasting Power of Attorney' campaign to encourage all people to plan ahead to avoid problems if they later lose mental capacity.

It means making a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) on the new version of the forms, which came into force in October 2009.

A Lasting Power of Attorney is a legal document that enables one person to make decisions on behalf of another.

There are two types of LPA: financial and welfare. Financial LPAs enable a person to act on behalf of another if, for example, they are ill or disabled and cannot act for themselves.

A welfare LPA enables a person to act on behalf of another if that person does not have the mental capacity to act for themselves, for example, in the case of a severe stroke.

Without an LPA, it may be necessary for family members to apply to the Court of Protection for authority.

This can be a distressing and lengthy process, and is far more expensive than making an LPA.

Once all parties have signed the LPA, they must then be registered with the Office of the Public Guardian before they can be used.

Carli Evans of Passmores Solicitors and a member of Solicitors for the Elderly is actively encouraging all people to plan ahead and make Lasting Powers of Attorneys.

Anyonewishing to discuss their requirements should contact Carli Evans to arrange a suitable no obligation appointment on 01446 721000 or by email ce@passmores.com.

CARERS WEEK

8th-14th June 2015

IMPROVING THE LIVES OF CARERS AND THE PEOPLE THEY CARE FOR

Meet and greet at your local hospital

CARDIFF and Vale University Health Board is currently looking for volunteers to support the 'Meet and Greet' service at University Hospital of Wales Cardiff (UHW) and University Hospital Llandough (UHL).

A spokeswoman said: "Cardiff and Vale UHB welcomes volunteering applications from all walks of life, including people who have experience of a mental health condition."

"Our Meet and Greet volunteers provide a welcoming service to all patients, visitors, carers and health board staff across various hospital sites."

For more information, contact Michelle Fowler, voluntary services manager, on 02920 335467, or email Michelle.Fowler2@wales.nhs.uk

Case histories OFFERING FRIENDLY CHAT...

MARTIN Brook from Barry is a befriending volunteer at University Hospital, Llandough, and spends his time befriending patients during their stay there.

Martin retired from full-time employment in August 2013, but still helps out with cost-planning for hospitals with his previous employer, Carillion. Martin undertook training and has been visiting inpatients at Llandough weekly, for over a year.

He said: "My aim is to have a friendly chat with people in hospital. Originally, I thought there may be patients who have no visitors, but this is rarely the case. Many patients I visit welcome a pleasant conversation."

"I am currently helping to conduct patient questionnaires on the ward. I was encouraged to volunteer because a few years ago, I spent a week in hospital when I was abroad and had no visitors."

"During this stay in hospital, I missed chatting to someone who had a bit more time to spare, and could also give me advice about getting everyday essentials like a toothbrush!"

"Making a contribution to the workings of a hospital is important to me and, hopefully, appreciated by the patients I meet."

"I feel that the volunteers are both valued members of the Llandough hospital community and work together as part of a team – always with the patient's health and wellbeing at heart."

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR VERNON Thompson from Barry has been volunteering for the mental health service since May 2010.

Vernon was recently honoured at the Staff Recognition Awards as Volunteer of the Year 2015.

When his beloved wife Avril became ill with dementia, he became her sole carer for many years and refused all offers of help, until eventually she was admitted to St Baruc's ward at Barry Hospital.

Vernon continued to visit her every day and became well known to all the staff and patients.

Sadly, when Avril passed away, there was a huge void in Vernon's life. Encouraged by the ward manager, Vernon decided to become a volunteer.

He now volunteers on most days of the week at two wards – St Baruc's in Barry Hospital and East 14 at University Hospital, Llandough.

He provides valuable support for patients and their carers suffering with varying degrees of dementia.

Vernon talks and listens to patients and their carers and joins in group work, plays dominoes or card games, takes patients into the gardens and makes tea for them.

Patients look forward to his visits. He takes time to chat with carers, as he knows through his own experience about the effect this illness has on families, and is there as support and a friendly face. Jill Griffiths, voluntary services co-ordinator (mental health) said: "It has been a privilege and an honour to have this caring, compassionate man as a volunteer within mental health services."

"He really deserves the title 'Volunteer of the Year 2015'. Congratulations and thank you, Vernon, from all the staff and patients of Cardiff and Vale mental health services, who have benefited from your remarkable commitment and support."

LEARNING MORE ABOUT HEALTH CARE SCOTT Richards wanted to study adult nursing and needed to gain experience in a healthcare setting, so he decided to enquire about volunteering.

Scott said: "From reading an article in my local newspaper about volunteering for Cardiff and Vale University Health Board, I got in touch with Michelle Fowler. From my first contact with Michelle and the team, throughout my time as a volunteer, through training and then manning the information centre, the support, encouragement and guidance I have received has been outstanding."

"After a period of training and 'buddying' with an experienced member, I was confident enough to run the information and support centre at University Hospital Llandough on my own."

"As a direct result of volunteering, I got into my first-choice university in Cardiff and straight onto the nurse bank as a healthcare support worker. Without the support from Michelle and the team, I would not have achieved this."

"I would thoroughly recommend volunteering to anyone looking to work in healthcare or to anyone who wants to make a difference in their local community."

Events highlight care for the carers...

THE 2011 Census tells us there are 15,575 unpaid carers in the Vale caring for an ill, frail or disabled family member or friend.

These people are 'carers' but they would probably say: "I'm just being a husband, a wife, a mum, a dad, a son, a daughter, a friend, or a good neighbour."

Carers provide unpaid help on a regular basis. People might need help for many reasons. For example, they may be born with a disability or had an accident that left them disabled; they may have an illness or disease.

Their problems may be physical or mental. They might need help because they are getting older and frail.

If this sounds like your situation, then you may be interested to hear about local events taking place next week.

Cardiff and the Vale of Glamorgan Councils and Cardiff and Vale University Health Board, are working together to organise a series of events during Carers' Week, to give carers access to information and support (see advert).

Each event is open to residents from Cardiff and the Vale and will be an opportunity speak to a range of organisations that support carers, find out information that can make a great difference in your situation, as well meet other carers over a cuppa.

Additionally, on both days, three, separate hour-long advice sessions will be run which will provide practical information on these areas on Tuesday, June 9: mass marketing scams and doorstep crime, first aid, looking after yourself (eating); and on Thursday, June 11: healthy dieting, benefits, bite size stress control.

NATIONAL Glaucoma Awareness week begins on June 8.

Glaucoma is often referred to as 'the silent thief of sight' due to the significant amount of sight that is lost without any symptoms.

It's a progressive disease and early detection is vital in preventing debilitating sight loss. This is why regular thorough eye examinations are vital for all, but especially those at increased risk due to family history of the disease.

At Robert Lloyd Optometrists, in addition to routine examinations, we also offer state-of-the-art imaging techniques that are able to detect the earliest signs of glaucoma which are not always apparent in a standard eye examination.

For more advice, or information, please call into the practice.

Early diagnosis key say Jones & Jones

CHRONIC glaucoma affects two per cent of the population over the age of 40, increasing to over 10 per cent for those aged 75 or more.

There are about 500,000 people in Wales and England with glaucoma, and about 70 million worldwide, making it one of the leading causes of blindness.

Unfortunately, there are no symptoms until extensive irreversible damage to the optic nerve has occurred, resulting in unrecoverable vision loss, and it is estimated that up to 50 per cent of people with glaucoma are undiagnosed.

Frustratingly, needless blindness from glaucoma can be easily averted as it can often be treated with simple eye drops. The key to successful treatment is early diagnosis. To increase your chance of being diagnosed early, you should have a sight test at least every two years – or more frequently if you have a first degree relative with glaucoma.

There are three basic tests used to screen for glaucoma, and for some patients it may be available on the NHS; for others, there will be a charge.

Even then, a basic sight test can often only detect glaucoma when substantial nerve damage has already occurred.

Fortunately, at Jones & Jones Optometrists, Dr Adrian Jones has a special interest in glaucoma and holds the College of Optometrists Higher Diploma in the diagnosis and management of glaucoma.

After spending almost a decade in specialist clinics at University Hospital of Wales in Cardiff, and the Bristol Eye Hospital, he has a wealth of knowledge and clinical expertise.

Dr Jones is able to offer NICE-compliant glaucoma assessments and comprehensive ongoing aftercare.

If you are concerned about the possibility of glaucoma, please telephone 01446 400015 to book an appointment, or visit our website at www.jonesandjones.org.uk.

Coun Hailey Townsend is encouraging local people to make a connection with fostering.

COUNCIL SEEKS FOSTER CARERS

B R I D G E N D County Borough Council (CBC) is calling for local people to come forward and make a 'connection with fostering' during Foster Care Fortnight (June 1-14).

In Bridgend county borough, approximately 70 foster families need to be found over the next year. If new foster families can't be found, many children will be forced to live a long way from family, friends and school, with some entering residential care.

There is a particular need locally for foster carers to look after teenagers, disabled children and sibling groups.

Coun Hailey Townsend, CBC's cabinet member for children's social services and equalities, said: "A childhood is too short to waste, and foster carers can help those who haven't had the best start to begin enjoying their life."

"We need more people to provide loving and safe homes for vulnerable children and young people so that they can live closer to their family and friends, and find the stability and security they need to go on and achieve their potential and grow into adults."

"If you're not sure whether you can foster or you have an interest in making a difference to a child's life, I would encourage you to contact the fostering team – they will give you all the information you need. We are also keen to dispel the myths that still exist around fostering and remind people that older residents aged 55 and over, gay people and single men can all foster.

"The most important thing is that prospective foster carers need to have the time and energy to invest in a child or young person."

They must also be flexible, patient and understanding. Carers receive a weekly allowance and have the support of CBC's professional team 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

The council's fostering team has a number of activities planned throughout Foster Care Fortnight including visits to Sainsbury's, Bridgend today, Thursday, June 4, 10am-12pm and Friday, June 5, 1pm-4pm. The team will be happy to have an informal chat and answer any questions.

You can find out more about this year's Foster Care Fortnight campaign, by visiting www.makeaconnection.wales and obtain further information about becoming a foster carer, by telephoning 01656 642674; or you can visit www.bridgend.gov.uk/fo sterling.

Two choirs
I HAD the pleasure of attending the recent concert by Bois Goetre-Hen (Boys of Coytrahen) Male Choir at St John's church, Aberkenfig, along with Stithians Ladies' Choir, formed in 1966 at Penmenor Methodist church, in Cornwall.

It has an accomplished musical team in musical director Bea Geddes and accompanist Nigel Guzek.

The ladies' choir began the concert with three hymns and the male choir then took the stage under its musical director Dale Evans, accompanied by Bethan Edwards.

'Ride the Chariot' included two solo pieces by Morgan Williams and J Rhys Davies.

Tenor J Rhys Davies sang 'This is the moment' from the musical Jekyll and Hyde and the ladies' choir then sang three songs from the musicals Oliver, Les Misérables and Irving Berlin's Alexander's Ragtime Band.

The male choir completed the first half of the concert with Bob Dylan's 'Make You Feel My Love,' and a solo piece by Bob Price, finishing with 'Gwahoddiaid'.

They started the second half followed by a polished performance by the ladies choir of a musical written for children dealing with environmental issues.

Tenor J Rhys Davies returned to sing a solo from the musical Chess, and the concert concluded with the Welsh National Anthem, the ladies of Cornwall leading the way!

The men's choir rehearses at Tondy cricket club, Bryn Road, Tondy on Sundays from 6pm to 8pm and Tuesdays 7pm to 9pm; new members welcome.

Bryncethin WI
ON May 21, president Debi Thomas of Bryncethin WI welcomed everyone and secretary Jen Davies read the minutes.

Members celebrating birthdays, Carol Finch and Teresa Ree, both received birthday cards.

Teresa Ree spoke briefly to ask if members would donate handknitted jumpers in aid of the 'fish and chip babies', born to parents with AIDS. Elaine Christian renewed her request to members for more recipes for the Bryncethin WI recipe book project.

Debi Thomas thanked members for attending a meeting prior to the craft tabletop open evening which was a great success - £245.63 was raised in total for Bryncethin WI.

The branch will be holding a summer community fete on Saturday, July 18 at Bryncethin Memorial Hall. If you wish to have a table at this event email bryncethin.wi@gmail.com. Further updates can be found via their website: bryncethinwi.webs.com/ or contact Jen: 07938 746890.

Bryncethin WI will meet on Thursday, June 18 from 6:45pm - 9pm, at Bryncethin Memorial Hall, on the A4061 opposite the primary school. During the next meeting, it will be celebrating its first birthday, and new members will be welcome.

Llancarfan horse continues its good form

A week after winning a handicap chase at Ffos Las, versatile Patricktom Boru, owned by Roger Wilcox and Bill Corrigan and trained by Evan Williams at Llancarfan, landed the opening White Swan Hotel Novices' Handicap Hurdle at Stratford last Saturday evening.

Partnered by Adam Wedge Patricktom Boru, an eight-year-old former successful point-to-pointer, came home two lengths clear of Stay In My Heart and went off the 9-4 favourite.

BRADLEY COMES IN FOR PRAISE
Bradley Gibbs, who rides out for Aberthin's Tim Vaughan, came in for a lot of praise in the Racing Post last week when finishing second on the trainer's Deshan at Worcester.

Deshan veered violently right in the latter stages of the race almost getting rid of his rider. However, Bradley, in pure rodeo style, somehow kept the partnership intact and getting his mount going again failed by just a length and a quarter to nail the winner Blackdown Hills.

Bradley, who earlier this season scored a hat-trick at the Llangineir Hunt Point-To-Point Steeplechases, modestly said: "Deshan ran a bit green".

COMMON THEME
Question - What do Brown Jack, Persian War and Mill House have in common?

Answer: The three of them are featured in Robin Oakley's Top 100 Racehorses Of All Time.

Another thing they have in common is that they were all trained by Welshmen. Brown Jack was trained by Ivor Anthony, Persian War by Colin Davies and Mill House by Fulke Walwyn.

My favourite horse of all time is Brown Jack, who won the 1928 Champion Hurdle and who also won the Queen Alexandra Stakes at Royal Ascot six years in succession.

He also won the Ascot Stakes so was a winner at the Royal meeting for seven years in a row.

Other big races that went his way were the Ebor Handicap, Goodwood Cup and Chester Cup. Brown Jack also won a hurdle race at Cardiff's Ely Racecourse which closed in 1939.

When I worked at the old racecourse as an assistant to the groundsman, as a young lad in the early 1950s, the only reminder that it had once been a racecourse was the old grandstand which was demolished in the 1960s.

Incidentally, I can claim to have won a race at Ely Racecourse - I won my heat of the 100 yards at the Cardiff School Sports!

Soloist J Rhys Davies leads the choir.

Class 2 - Tom Hopwood, for being tolerant of others with a mature attitude.

Class 3 - Gethyn Thomas, for displaying tolerance for decisions regarding basketball selection.

Darcey Bate, Zoe Baird, Logan Cinderby, McKenzie Dowling, Lloyd Graham, Harry Hopwood, Gethyn Lewis, Jak Lewis, Millie Loosmore, Jamie McCann, Madison Parry, Paige Penny, Noah Pook, Roman Pook, Dylan Sage, Thomas Sage, Ellie Street, Gethyn Thomas, Eloise Whitefield and Tyler Williams.

Ladies' choir
COR Merched Cwm Llynfi (Llynfi Valley ladies choir) is holding a fundraising coffee morning this Saturday (June 6) at the Old House, Llangynydd from 10am to 12 noon; entry will be £3.

The choir rehearses at Garth 'Celtic' rugby club on Wednesday evenings from 7pm to 9pm; visitors and new members welcome.

Bridgend male choir
THE choir will be performing next Sunday, June 7 in the marquee at Ogmere village at 1pm, to celebrate the conclusion of 'Mair's Walk', held to raise funds for cancer research at Velindre hospital.

On June 12 the choir will be leading the hymn singing at All Saints' church, Pen-y-Fai for the wedding of the granddaughter of one of its choristers, Brian Evans.

Wedding date
ON Saturday, June 6 the Ogmere Valley male voice choir is leading the singing at the wedding of Enid Tylke in St David's church, Wyndham.

It is then performing in a concert at its rehearsal hall, Canolfan

Bethlehem, Commercial Street, Ogmere Vale on Saturday, June 13 at 7pm with the Churchdown male voice choir from Gloucestershire. Tickets are £4, obtainable from choristers, or John on 01656 841429.

Hospital fete
FRIENDS of Maesteg Hospital will be holding its 53rd annual fete to raise funds for the hospital in Maesteg Market Square on Saturday, June 20 from 10am to 4.30pm.

This year it will be bigger and better than ever with lots of interesting stalls and attractions including a circus troupe, rodeo bull, football shootout, coconut shy, crafts, games and competitions.

Young singers and dancers will be on the stage all day to entertain the public.

Friends' concern
THE Friends of Bridgend Youth Music charity is concerned that the young musicians may lose funding for instrumental music tuition in schools throughout Wales.

This is a genuine concern and education for arts and music is just as essential as the three Rs. It was music that helped keep the public's hope alive during the Second World War, and music has opened so many promising careers for youngsters over the last few years.

Foodbank
I AM sorry to have to write that another of these essential services has had to open in the Bridgend CBC area, this time in Ogmere Vale at Horeb Baptist Chapel, Dinam Close, Nantymoel on Thursdays from 11am to 1pm.

Festival week
THERE will be a concert at St Theodore's church, Kenfig Hill featuring Frank Hennessy at the church on Tuesday, June 16 at 7pm, part of Kenfig Hill and Pyle community festival week activities.

Tickets £8 available from Theo's charity shop, Bridge Street, members of the festival committee, or on 01656 742703.

Tabletop
AT St David's church, Wyndham today (and tomorrow, June 5) there is a tabletop sale at the church from 10am to 4pm. Hot drinks and refreshments will be available all day.

Charity shop
ABERKENFIG and District United Churches have combined to open a charity - the Storehouse in Aberkenfig, Monday to Thursday from 10am to 4pm; Saturdays 10am to 1pm.

The shop accepts donated items from the public for sale to raise funds for a 'Christians against Poverty' debt centre.

Vale MP's double sports date at Dinas Powys!

Alun Cairns MP with winner Craig Maycock and bowling club officials. VALE MP Alun Cairns joined bowling and football club volunteers in Dinas Powys last week.

He attended the finals of the Men's Open Singles Championship of Wales, held for the 97th year, at Dinas Powys Bowling Club on the Common. Later, he attended the annual Dinas Powys Football Club dinner - a great deal of money was raised, which will help sustain the club through next season."

He said: "I was delighted to have been able to watch such a prestigious final. I must pay tribute to the club officials who organised such an impressive event. The playing surface and organisation was immaculate. I also very much enjoyed attending the football club dinner - a great deal of money was raised, which will help sustain the club through next season."

Dysgwyr Caerdydd a'r Fro yn mwynhau yng Ngreynog.

amrywiaeth eang o ran gallu o ddechreuwyd pur i hyfedredd. Roedd y bwyd yn wych yn y neuadd gyda rhywbeth ar gael at ddant pawb. Yna, cawsom noson o ganu gyda'r ffeifrynnau 'Oes Gafr eto', 'Calon Lan', 'Moliannwn' a 'Daw Hyfryd Fis' yn cael ei bloeddio yn nhafam y gwesty.

Roedd yr helfa drysor yn arbennig ble roedd rhaid cerdded drwy'r gerddi gogoneddus.

Cawsom gwis adnabod enwogion Cymru a rownd cyfieithu pop ble roedd chwerthin enfawr dros "dwi'n rhy rhywiol i fy nghrys, rhy rhywiol mae'n brifo" a

Er mwyn i'r Gymraeg fynyddu mae'n hollbwysig defnyddio'r iaith mewn sefyllfa anffurfiol tu allan i'r dosbarth. Ond, yn affodus roedd rhaid i ni ffarwelio ar y diwrnod ola! Roeddwn yn drist iawn i'w gadael ar ôl gynnwdd oedd wedi bod yn eu gallu o'r Gymraeg. Tan tro nesaf!

Ysgol Gyfun Bro Morgannwg

Trywydd

YN ystod y flwyddyn hon mae Ysgol Gyfun Bro Morgannwg wedi bod yn ddigon ffodus i gael ein dewis i fod yn rhan o'r prosiect PCAI (Prosiect Cefnogi Arferion Iaith) sy'n cael ei ariannu gan Lywodraeth Cymru.

Pwrpas y prosiect ydy hybu'r iaith Gymraeg yn yr ysgol ac yn y gymuned leol a derbynwyd arian gan y Llywodraeth er mwyn cyflawni hyn.

Penderfynon ni gyflawni hyn trwy gynnal tair gig trwy gyfrwng y Gymraeg ar gyfer chweched yr ysgol. Perfformiodd bandiau ac unigolion ifanc megis Cadno, Hanna Beynon, Jodi Bird a Hana Evans. Cynhaliwyd dwy gig yn y Windsor Arms ym Mhenarth ac yna yn y Nghlwb Ifor Bach gyda Phlasmawr a Glantaf.

Does dim amheuaeth roedd y profiad yn fuddiol iawn i nifer o ddisgyblion yn yr ysgol a denwyd torfeydd o bobl gan yr holl dalent sydd wedi crisialu ym Mro Morgannwg. Hoffwn ddiolch i PCAI am y cyfle arbennig hwn a gobeithiwn y bydd yr holl waliau caded yn parhau'r flwyddyn nesaf.

Gig Trywydd yn y Windsor Arms

cyhoeddwyd mai Prif Swyddogion cyntaf ysgol 3-19 newydd Bro Morgannwg ar gyfer y flwyddyn academaidd 2015/16 fydd Betsan Jones a Ben Popham, a'u dirprwyon fydd Keelan Jones a Rhianon Berry.

Mewn cyfweiliad â James Evans, pennath a chweched, dywedodd Ben a Betsan eu bod yn falch o gael eu hethol ac maent yn edrych ymlaen at weithio gyda'r ysgol. Soniodd y ddau eu bod wedi cael profiadau ardderchog yn eu blynyddoedd cynnar yn yr ysgol ac yn parhau i'w fwyhau a cyfleoedd sydd ar gael iddynt, ymysg eraill mae'r ddau yn aelodau o gerddorfa'r ysgol a'r tîm siarad cyhoeddus.

Dros y flwyddyn diwethaf mae'r chweched dosbarth wedi bod yn codi arian at elusen Teenage Cancer Trust gyda digwyddiadau llai ac hefyd i'r holl ysgol, cytunodd Ben a Betsan ei fod yn bwysig i hyn barhau gan ei fod yn elusen mor deilwng.

Er nad yw'r chweched dosbarth ym Mro Morgannwg y mwyafr, mae gan hyn fanteision lu gan bod pawb yn nabod ei gilydd ac yn teimlo yn rhan o gymuned. Mae'r ddau yn gobeithio cael gyfrfa ym maes Meddygaeth a dymunwn y gorau iddynt yn swydd eleni ac ar gyfer y dyfodol.

Saffaris bwyd

YN nhy bwyta Arboreal yn y Bontfaen fe lansiwyd menter newydd lle roedd cynnyrch lleol ar gael i'w blasu.

Mae cwmni 'Loving Welsh Food' yn cynnig teithiau a saffaris bwyd, gweithdai a chyflwyniadau am gynnyrch Cymreig a thraddodiad coginio yng Nghymru.

Bydd y teithiau yn mynd ag ymwelwyr ar daith o gwmpas Bro Morgannwg mewn bws, i gael blasu bwyd a diod lleol a chwrdd â'r cynhyrchwyr. Sian B Roberts sefydlodd y cwmni, ar ôl mynd ar saffari bwyd a diod yn Sydney rhai blynyddoedd yn ôl.

Wedi mwynhau'r profiad a chlywed am deithiau tebyg yn Chicago, fe benderfynodd Sian roi cynnig ar y syniad yng Nghaerdydd a'r Fro, a'r canlyniad yw Teithiau a Saffaris Bwyd a Diod Loving Welsh Food.

Ymhlith y rhai oedd yn arddangos eu cynnyrch yn y noswaith i lansi'r cwmni oedd Nic Osogood gyda'i chaceennau - (roedd y Raspberry Ruffles yn arbennig) a Fferm organnig Slade, ar gyrrion St Brides Major.

Ac i olchi'r cyfan i lawr roedd gwin perffro Gwin y Fro o winllan Meadow View tafliad carreg o'r dref. Cafodd pawb hwyf wrth wneud 'blind tasting' ac er mawr rhyddhad i Michael ei win ef Gwin y Fro oedd fwyaf poblogaidd gyda Champagne go iawn yn ail!

Meddai Sian: "Ry ni'n gyfarwydd â bwyd o Ffrainc, yr Eidal, Tsieina, ond dy ni ddim yn gwybod llawer am ein bwyddyd a rhyseitiau traddodiadol ein hunain."

"Y syniad gwreiddiol oedd cynnig gweithgareddau hwylus a blasus, gan gynnwys ychydig o wybodaeth am ein bwyd a diod yma yng Nghymru - ac i'r ymwelwyr, ambell air o Gymraeg."

"Rwy'n dwli ar goginio, blasu bwyd a diod newydd a darllen am hanes bwyd a diod. Mae'r teithiau a'r saffaris bwyd, y gweithdai a'r cyflwyniadau yn dod â phopeth at ei gilydd - y gwahanol swyddi dwi wedi cael, a'r diddordeb sy gen i'm mynd cuisine."

Mae rhagor o wybodaeth am y teithiau bwyd a diod yn y Bontfaen ar wefan Loving Welsh Food.

Bydd Sian hefyd yn cynnig gweithdai i unigolion yng ngwesty Nos Da ar Offennaf 15 ac Awst 12, a gweithdai coginio yn Sain Ffagan o Awst 4-7. Mi fydd y gweithdai ar y Sed o Awst ar gyfer siaradwyr Cymraeg.

Mynd am dro i'r...Barri!

BETH sy'n dod i'r cof o glywed yr enw Barri?

Ry ni gyd yn nabod Barri: Barri sy'n gaptan ar y tîm peldroed lleol, fe sydd hefyd yn chwarae 'darts' i dafarn y pentre; ac yn gefn i'r PTA lleol...o gysidro bod enw'r lle mor gyfystyr ag enw person, pam bod hi'n gallu bod braidd yn anelwag pa "Barri" yn union oedd tarddiad yr enw?

Fel brodor i ardal Penarth, rydw i hefyd yn frwd iawn i osgoi cyhuddiadau o ddbynnau yn ormodol ar Ddwyrain y Fro felly dyna i chi reswm da arall i ni droedio hi draw i ganolfan gweinyddol y Fro - a chartref y Barri Gem wrth gwrs - sef Y Barri yn Y Gymraeg!

Yn ôl Howard C Jones yn ei gyfrol Place Names in Glamorgan (Starling Press Risca, 1972; ac felly'n anhebyg iawn o fod yr un Howard Jones a lwyddodd i ofyn 'What is Love?' mor angerddol yn yr 1980au) tarddiad enw Y Barri yw Ynys y Barri!

Digon teg Mr. Jones, digon teg - er efallai bod hyn yn newyddion i staff a disgyblion Ysgol Sant Baruc - ond beth yw tarddiad Ynys y Barri gofynnwn ninnau yn angerddol felly...

Mae'r gred taw Sant Baruc ei hun (Barrow neu Barrog yn ôl Howard C Jones) o'r 6ed ganrif yw'r ysbrydoliaeth am yr enw modern Y Barri yn un gadarn: mi foddodd Sant Barrog yn yr ardal a mi gaffodd ei gladdu ar Ynys Y Barri (Jones tud. 15).

Nid oedd Gerald de Barry (sydd efallai'n fwy cyfarwydd i ni fel Gerallt Cymro wrth gwrs) yn credu mai enw ei deulu ef oedd tarddiad enw'r dref; ond yn hytrach yr union i'r gwrthwyneban eu bod nhw wedi symud i fyw i'r yno ar ôl i'w dadcu Normanaidd - sef Odo - ennill perchnogaeth ar dir Ynys Y Barri fel gwobr am ei ymladd dewr yn erbyn lloedd y Sacsoniaid yn Lloegr yn ystod yr unfed ganrif ar ddeg.

Doedd dim cyfenw gan y teulu cyn symud i'r Barri mae'n debyg, felly fe atgyweirwyd hyn gan ei feibion ac fe gymrwyd yr enw 'de Barry' ymlaen i'r ganrif nesaf.

Cynnigwyd hefyd gan Howard C Jones yn Place Names in Glamorgan y posibilid mai nid yd person ydy "Barri" o gwbl; cyflwynwyd y cysyniad taw 'bar' i olygu bryn, neu gopa, sydd wrth wraidd yr enw Y Barri.

Fodd bynnag, i ddychwelyd i'r cwestiwn cyntaf, beth sy'n dod i fy meddwl i am dref Y Barri yw mai tref fwyaf Cymru gyfan yw hi, a bod ganddi glwb peldroed o bwys hanesyddol. Ond, mae hynny yn stori buasai hyd yn oed Gerallt Cymro yn gweld hi'n anodd esbonio mewn un golofn!

SÊR EIRY - GEMINI

O s cawsoch eich geni rhwng Mai 22ain a Mehefin 21ain - rydych chi'n Gemini. Arwydd awyr dan reolaeth y planed Mercher, sy'n golygu eich bod yn gymeriad hwylio hapus gyda meddwl chwim, a thafod ffraeth. Dyma dylwythen deg neu Gwyn ap Nudd y Sidydd.

Mae'n bosib fod gyda chi ddawn ysgrifennu hefyd. Mae'n ddiffr iawn bod yng nghwmni Gemini fe allwch siarad yn ddiddorol a ffraeth ar lawer o banciau. Mae'r gallu gyda chi i wneud mwy nag un peth ar y tro yn llwyddiannus iawn, ac mae gyda chi gôf anhygoel.

Rydych chi'n berson crydeithasol iawn ac yn dysgu'n gyflym yn dda gyda ieithoedd ac yn dda iawn am ddynwared pobl eraill.

Person aflonydd iawn mae'n amhosib eich cael i eistedd yn llonydd, na chwaith i ganolbwyntio ar un peth ar y tro - rydych chi mor hoff o wibio o chi peth i'r llall.

GETTING SET FOR SUMMER IS ALL IN THE PLANNING!

THERE'S something magical about summer that lifts spirits, boosts motivation levels, relieves tensions and generally makes everything seem happier and more fun.

For many of us, it means spending more time outdoors, topping up our minds, bodies and souls with a good dose of nature, fresh air and sunshine.

Yet 'summer dread' can crop up too. If your countdown to June is spent fretting over the thought of having to bare more flesh, put up with another bout of sweat rashes and chafing, or cope with the intensified social pressures (why does everybody else have an endless stream of invites to barbecues, picnics and parties, and I'm watching Big Bang Theory re-runs again?), you're not alone.

Summer though, like everything else in life, doesn't have to be 'perfect' - and you don't have to have a 'perfect' bikini body, or 'perfect' social life to enjoy it.

You just need these expert tips on how to make the most of a few months of sunshine:

Sioned Quirke, NHS and media dietitian (www.quirkynutrition.co.uk) - "I like to have a serious fridge clear out!

"I usually find several items that have been sitting there for a while that I won't use again, or may have passed the recommended storage time - especially sauces and preserves.

"I give my fridge a good clean too and I find using antibacterial wipes so easy and quick - makes it less of a chore!"

Anna Magee, women's health expert and editor (healthista.com) -

"The average person makes a staggering 200 food decisions a day, according to research by Cornell University, so I change a few things about the way we eat to subliminally increase my willpower.

"These include drinking out of tall glasses [proven to lead to drinking less], covering healthy leftovers in cling-film so I can see them, and chocolate cake remainders in foil so I can't.

"Lastly, I put my running shoes by my bed and my kit on the radiator, so they're within eye shot as soon as I wake up.

"I need to intercept that moment between opening my eyes and deciding that working-out is a bad idea, by being able to see my gym kit the moment I wake up!"

Sally Wisbey, Spatone nutritionist - "Spring is a great time to detox your mind, body and home and make some changes for the summer months ahead.

"Starting off the day with a glass of warm water with the juice of one lemon will help cleanse the liver and aid with detoxification.

Too much dairy, gluten, sugar and processed foods can be inflammatory and hard to digest, leaving you sluggish and tired, so cut back on these. "Introduce green juices into your life; bursting with nutrients, these will give you tonnes of energy, get your skin glowing and keep your brain smart.

"Juice an apple, handful of spinach and kale, stick of celery, half a cucumber, chunk of ginger and the juice of half a lemon."

PILATES is a gentle form of exercise that both strengthens and stretches the body.

It is suitable for many different people of varying ages and fitness levels.

Some people attend the classes to improve their fitness or flexibility, others find it helpful with a variety of aches and pains and some just enjoy the class and the relaxation it brings.

If you don't fancy joining one of the classes on offer or if you need a little more help, why not try a private lesson with Sharon.

Sharon is a qualified Pilates teacher and also a local osteopath.

Classes are small and friendly and are held in Barry at St Nicholas Hall.

To book your place, contact Sharon on 07830 085606 or see www.barrypilates.co.uk.

Cowbridge Physiotherapy, Acupuncture and Sports Injury Clinic, as Joanna Cunningham-Jones of Cowbridge Reflexology, is returning to the centre of the town.

The pace of life for so many of us these days is just frantic.

With the constant bleep and ping of technology, deadlines at work, demands at home, or a mixture of all three; the pressure on our own time has never been greater.

More and more of us are living our lives in the fast lane, with our own health and wellbeing seemingly pushed further and further down our list of priorities. It's a toxic situation, and it's often some time before we begin to realise the negative effect that living life at such a pace can have on our physical and emotional health.

Reflexology can help ease the impact of modern life and address the imbalances in the finely-tuned systems of our bodies.

Reflexology is the relaxing way to help ease the symptoms of anxiety/low moods/fatigue, sleep disturbances, digestive issues, women's health, sub-fertility and maternity, cancer and palliative care – as well as general aches and pains.

WE CAN HELP YOU TAKE CARE OF YOUR HEARING

AS we get older, we need to look after our hearing; losing it is often a very slow process and it can even go unnoticed until the people around us comment that the TV is loud, or they may sound as if they mumble.

In groups, and with background noise, you withdraw from conversation. These are all signs that your hearing might need testing.

If we don't hear well, we can start misinterpreting what people say; this can cause embarrassment and affect the way we interact with others, and also affect our confidence.

Hear better and feel better – call Apple Hearing & Healthcare for a demonstration of our latest products.

Dr Sarah Brewer,
(www.DrSarahBrewer.com)

"As soon as the sun shines, I'm out in the garden in the hope of replenishing my vitamin D levels: thinning the wild garlic; mulching the herb garden; collecting young bay tree leaves for fish dishes; tying in four grape vines climbing over my pergola... It's so lovely getting outside again, and sunshine lifts my spirits."

Lucy Paltnoi, energy healer and guide (lifeisenergii.com) – "Each year, I clear the winter energy out of our home.

"I go through every room and decide what stays, goes or needs to be repaired, and store away blankets, jumpers, coats and boots, and take out lighter layers, T-shirts, cardigans and jackets. Cupboards are cleaned and tidied. It's especially important to restore or replace broken items, drying flowers and plants, and to make sure things are generally in a good condition.

"I finish with some vases of fresh flowers or plants and light some candles, inviting new, sparkly energy into our home for the year ahead."

ValePlus volunteers in their 'garden oasis'.

The volunteers make a garden oasis in Barry

LOCAL charity ValePlus was given free National Garden Gift vouchers – thanks to the 'Have a Wild Weekend' campaign run by Keep Wales Tidy and funded by the Welsh Government's Nature applying for £400, which they used to develop a wildlife oasis at their garden in High Street, Barry.

The aim of the 'Have a Wild Weekend' campaign is to raise awareness of the importance of pollinators, as well as to help communities create new habitats and food sources by planting wild flower havens in unused spaces.

Steve Thomas, a director of ValePlus, said: "We are very grateful for the grant support given to our charity to create a new wildlife habitat in our garden. The project was very successful and a very positive vibe was created among those involved with the work."

Lesley Jones, chief executive of Keep Wales Tidy, added: "I am delighted that so many groups across Wales got involved. They have planted new flowering plants to attract our bees and butterflies, as well as giving existing habitats a helping hand."

BRIDGEND IS WHERE THE WILD THINGS ARE!

BRIDGEND Library is taking part in The Big Wild Rumpus 2015 – a nationwide campaign to celebrate the nation's love of the Maurice Sendak book, Where the Wild Things Are.

The GEM has joined forces with the Dogs Trust, to find suitable homes for inmates at the rehoming centre in Bridgend.

Rubin is worth extra attention

RUBIN is a two-year-old Staffy-cross who is a lovely lad, and is loving and affectionate when he knows you.

Rubin is improving on his social skills greatly with friendly dogs, which will need to be continued with his new owners. Rubin prefers to be walked in quiet environments.

He can live with children 14 years and over and is definitely one for bull-breed fans willing to put in that little extra effort for him to settle.

LINDA FEAGAN (Supporter Relations Officer Dogs Trust Bridgend) linda.feagan@dogstrust.org.uk (Tel: 01656 728923)

Activities will be free of charge and intended for four to 11-year-olds, but all ages are welcome. Places are limited so booking is essential.

On Saturday, June 13, wild things will be gathering in villages, towns and cities across the UK to read the book aloud and enjoy a 'Big Wild Rumpus' of activities.

Local wild things are invited to meet at Bridgend Library at 10am to kickstart the fun with mask-making followed by a storytelling performance of the book before venturing outdoors for muddy madness.

Participants are also encouraged to get into the swing of things by dressing up in their wildest costumes, with a prize for the wildest outfit.

Eurovision: YET ANOTHER MISS!

ONCE again, the United Kingdom did not make it at the Eurovision Song Contest, but got five more votes than last year!

Have we lost our way, or are we just no longer in favour? We know the countries whose votes we would never get.

Before voting took place, my choice was Sweden (a worthy winner), followed by Italy – I liked the Three Tenors.

I was pleased that back scratching did not take place, as in previous years; it was a farce.

Mrs Heveron, Rhooce.

Pair in line for big day

AERON SMITH and his Brynhill PGA professional, Matthew Owen, are one step away from following in the footsteps of Europe's Ryder Cup heroes with an appearance in the Lombard Trophy final at Gleneagles.

Four-handicapper Aeron won his club qualifying competition and they now advance to the regional final at Burnham and Berrow Golf Club on June 11, where they will compete against up to 70 other clubs for the chance to secure one of 16 prized spots available for the 36-hole grand final.

Ian Isaac, head of sales at Lombard, said: "After a record number of entries in 2014, this year's Lombard Trophy promises to be another exciting competition.

"The competition culminates at Gleneagles, which proved itself a fantastic venue for last year's Ryder Cup and which offers a great incentive for this year's participants."

THE MILLWOOD BOWLERS' CUP WIN

AFTER the defeat last week by Belle Vue, Millwood were back to their winning ways, defeating Cadoxton by eight shots in the fourth Munro Cup game.

At the fourth end, Millwood held a very slender two shot lead at 14-12, and after the ninth end had been played the lead had increased to a 13 shots advantage to Millwood, 39-26.

Cadoxton then managed to pull back some of the deficit by the 14th end to only trail by six shots, 51-45, only for Millwood to finish off at the 18th end to gain an eight shot victory, 65-57. Millwood took another 12-2 point total for the win.

On June 10, Millwood are away to Barry Central in the sixth game of the Munro Cup. JH HIT THE SURF TO LEARN ALL ABOUT BEACH SAFETY...

V A L E Community Engagement Supervisor said.

"The educational programme was first introduced by the RNLI back in 2004 and has grown in popularity over the years. As part of the half-day session children are taught the meaning of beach flags, the dangers of rips and tides and what to do if they spot someone else in trouble.

"However, the highlight for each child every year is the chance to put on a wetsuit and learn basic body surf skills under the watchful eye of the RNLI lifeguards.

"We have an amazing coastline here in Wales and the beach is a great day out for all the family. It's nice to see the children leaving each session having learnt new skills – hopefully some will share these safety tips with other members of the family as they visit the beach this summer."

The charity will be running Hit the Surf sessions on Whitmore Bay for two weeks. For more information on how to stay safe on the beach this summer, visit the RNLI website: www.rnli.org.uk/beach-safety or download the charity's beach safety mobile app.

KAREN from Ewemove Vale of Glamorgan Limited, explains the Importance of Kerb Appeal when selling your property.

The saying goes that first impressions last. And you only get one chance to make a first impression...There's also a belief within the industry that buyers make their decision on whether to buy within 10 seconds of arriving at your home.

I believe that this is too simplistic, but the reality is that when your potential buyer arrives, if they get a negative first impression, you're starting off on the back foot.

You'll then have an enormous amount of work to do to try and regain the lost momentum and move the prospect into a position of wanting to make you an offer.

The problem faced by most people when they come to sell their home, is often not seeing straightforward yet obvious improvements albeit through no fault of their own but simply over-familiarity! So when you try to sell your home, you should first try and look dispassionately at your house, through the eyes of an observer seeing it for the first time.

This is often harder than it seems and you may need to enlist the help of a trusted friend who you can call upon to seek their advice and tell you the brutal truth!

Ask them: "If I absolutely had to sell my house and you needed to help me in the best way that you can – what should I do to make the first impression that a buyer receives, as amazing as possible?"

At the end of the day, it's simply a matter of common sense, a bit of good old elbow grease and a few quid spent. All of which will dramatically enhance and improve the presentation of your property upon arrival.

I've produced a handy checklist for you to use as a guide:

1. Clear the garden of any children's toys/trampolines etc.
 2. Clear the garage/shed of any junk/items that you will not be taking to your new home.
 3. Weed the garden and sweep up any leaves.
 4. Jet wash any pathways and driveways.
 5. Repair any broken fences and gates.
 6. Paint any exterior woodwork and metalwork, for example gates, fences, gutters and doors.
 7. Clear gutters and make sure that the roof has no missing or damaged tiles.
 8. Clean windows inside and out.
 9. Plant seasonal flowers and/or hanging baskets.
 10. On the day of the viewing, make sure that the driveway or roadside is clear for the viewer to park their car.
 11. Try to conduct your viewings during the day.
 12. If your property has two entrances, guide them to the entrance that has the most scenic visual outlook.
- These steps just cover the exterior of your property. A good way to look for inspiration on how to improve the appearance of your property is to get ideas from the best houses on your street and copy what they've done.

But what if you find yourself in a situation where your house looks immaculate, but it's being let down by a neighbouring property? Sometimes, the house next door can be extremely off-putting to potential buyers.

Remember, they're not just buying a house; they're also forming an opinion on their possible future neighbours. Most people assume that nothing can be done in these situations, but if you're determined to get a sale and want the best price, you can take the initiative.

I know one particular owner who had a house next to a property that had an overgrown garden, litter strewn outside and a tired broken fence. It looked horrendous and was a complete eyesore. The neighbours were elderly and, sadly, unable to maintain the upkeep of their property. So the seller approached them and offered to do all the clearance work.

For a few hundred pounds and a weekend's hard graft, the front garden was transformed. They'd dramatically improved their chances of a sale and at the same time performed a good deed for their extremely grateful neighbours.

The story had a happy ending with the seller achieving the full asking price in a matter of weeks.

47 Welsh hopefuls make early bid for a World Cup spot

TEN English-based players, nine uncapped players, and (inevitably) one or two mildly surprising omissions, were the main talking points when the Wales head coach unveiled his 47-man preliminary training squad for the Rugby World Cup on Monday.

The familiar faces that make up Warren Gatland's core squad are all in place (minus the injured Jonathan Davies), but with a comparatively small playing base to draw from, he has wisely opted to widen the net – though he was never going to please everyone.

That said, it is nevertheless an impressive-looking mix that gives a teasing glimpse into his initial thinking in these very early stages of the RWC 2015 campaign.

We will, of course, know a great deal more after the 47 recruits have been tested in the promised torrid summer at the hands of Gatland's drill sergeants – before he whittles his troops down to 31, in readiness for the assault on Twickenham in the autumn.

Mixed fortunes for cricket teams

ON Saturday Barry Athletic Cricket Club 1st XI travelled to Ponthir for a league game that proved to be a nailbiter in more ways than one.

Barry were soon in trouble after they lost openers Goodway and Provis with just 19 on the board, for 13 and 2 respectively.

Wickets kept falling throughout the innings and Barry were left on 71 for 9 when Gee and Frost came together and added a priceless 21 runs, with Gee ending up on 14 not out with 2 fours and Barry all out for 92. A disappointing score – but there was to be a few twists in the game yet.

Ponthir's reply got off to the worst possible start as they lost their first two wickets with only 10 on the board as captain Gee got Price for 0 and Burkitt for 8.

There was a partnership of 43 and Ponthir looked to be strolling to the win, then 6 wickets fell for just 20 runs. First to go was A Burkitt for 9 off Usswald back in the side after his 6 for 6 the week before; M Dennhey went for 35 off Usswald with the score on 64 and then Harrison for 0, also off Usswald with the score on 64.

Gee brought himself back on and took the wicket of J Dennhey LBW for 5 and the score was now 65 for 6.

Ponthir went into tea on 73 for 6 but there was still time for more drama as the first over after tea produced a double wicket maiden as Gee had George caught by Usswald for 1 and Evans caught by Griffith for 0.

It was 73 for 8 and the impossible now seemed a real possibility, but it was not to be as Crook and Higgins saw Ponthir home to a nail biting nervous win, Gee ending with 5 for 24 and Usswald 3 for 23.

At the Athletic Ground, Barry Island, Barry Athletic 2nd XI lost the toss and were asked to bat first.

They posted a score of over 300, with Damon Leake (99), Lee Morgan (80), Ashley Baker (50) and Craig Brock (31 not out) being the main contributors.

In reply Ponthir amassed 75 all out; the best of the bowling were Rhys Hutton 3 for 8, Ashley Baker 2 for 13 and Steve Jones 2 for 22, with only J. Davies really showing any resistance for Ponthir.

Barry now top the table with 19.67 points and are unbeaten in their first three games of the season.

This weekend Barry Athletic 1st XI are home to Rogerstone with a 12.30pm start and the 2nd XI away to the same opponents; on Sunday Barry travel to Aberdare for the first round of the Welsh Cup.

On Sunday, June 21, Barry Athletic junior section will have the honour of being the guard of honour for the NatWest T20 Blast game between Glamorgan and Sussex at the SWALEC Stadium.

Junior training is on Tuesday evenings between 6pm and 7.15pm; senior nets start Thursday at the ground from 6pm to 8pm.

BOWLERS SLIP UP IN THE CUP

THE Munro Cup was played at Millwood with a fairly close defeat; the details of the match were not available.

CADOXTON v ELY – CML6 The Cardiff & District League opening game for Cadoxton was played at home against Ely, on a pleasant, sunny, day; the result brought 12 points for Cadoxton with two against.

Howard Craven's rink started off with three winning ends to lead 6-0. This advantage was reduced to just one shot by the 11th end, and with two ends left the lead was the same. However they finished strongly with a '2' and a '4' for welcome success.

The rink skipped by Roy Harding trailed 4-1 after four ends, but by the 10th end the scores were level. A strong finish, with just one further losing end, saw them safely home.

On the rink skipped by Don Kuhnelt the advantage swung to and fro, with the scores level on four occasions.

However, two '3's opened a gap and with two ends left with a nine shot lead, another home win looked on the cards.

A '5' against on the penultimate end gave the opposition hope but a single on the last was not enough to stop the third rink win.

Gordon Davies skipped the other rink and they looked well in with another success when leading, after a '5' gave them a 10-3 advantage.

The opposition came back to draw level, 10-10, before three singles against prevented a 'full house'.

CADOXTON 'A' v BARRY CENTRAL A depleted Cadoxton 'A' side visited Barry Central for their opening league game and found the mission too great for them.

A triple skipped by David Evans was the only rink to have any success, with a one shot win.

Dai Tuck skipped the only full rink and although taking an early 7-3 lead, this dwindled to 8-8.

On the next end a '5' against was cancelled out on the next four ends. Eventually the home side inched ahead to get the result.

The other two rinks found the opposition and the lack of a player too much and were comprehensively defeated.

Scores: G Powell, J Smart, D Fanning 7-49 K Tanner, J Hawkins, A Rogers, T Kaged, R Cole, A Prince, D Evans 22-21 M Penney, G Goldthorpe, B Castle, T Goddard; R Morris, A Field, G Garland 12-37 C Ditchburn, D Brewer, J Wathes, E Hudd; S Clements, I Heppenstall, G Solomon, D Tuck 17-22 A Castle, E Handy, G Carstairs, D Goddard. Final score 79-74.

Surprise win for Romilly bowlers!

ROMILLY Bowls Club kicked off their new 2015 Cardiff Municipal League season on Saturday with games against Ferndale and Ynyscynon under the new system whereby clubs play against each other home and away which will for the first time create genuine league champions.

The 'Rom' have had an excellent start to the season with the club side having qualified for the first round proper in the Carruthers Shield and the 'A' side topping the S V L A table.

Romilly first team were away to last season's champions Ferndale for their first game which obviously was expected to be a difficult start but such is the confidence this season even with the late withdrawal of skip Brian Foscolo, expectations remained high.

The 'Rom' welcomed Andrew Thatcher for his club debut with Kelynn Mills, Roger Jones and Rhodri Phillips making their league debuts.

After the horrendous weather of the Friday, the players walked onto the green in fine weather ready for a battle with Fred Phillips replacing the injured Foscolo at skip and Phil Gershenson coming in at lead.

The game began with the rinks of Phillips and captain Mel Newman getting off to brilliant starts, going ahead 8-0 and 9-2 respectively after five ends, with the other rinks of Graham Cogbill and Jeff Wright behind by just two and four shots, leaving Romilly ahead by nine shots.

With this welcome but unexpected start the confidence of the Romilly players was growing and by the end of the 10th, all rinks were now ahead and the lead had grown to 26 at 49-23.

As the game reached the 15th end Romilly had maintained their 26 shot advantage but the opponents were, as expected, beginning to bowl well, putting pressure on to the Romilly players - but their response was to match bowl for bowl, not allowing their opponents to make inroads into the lead.

At the end of the game all Romilly rinks were ahead winning by 25 shots, 89-64, and taking all 14 points. The scoreline certainly shocked the home side who could not remember the last time they had been whitewashed at home.

Romilly 'A' team entertained Ynyscynon at Romilly Park on Saturday hoping to continue their fine start to the season.

In past seasons Ynyscynon have always had the edge over Romilly, but with confidence high the home side were anticipating a winning start.

The game over the first five ends was tight with all Romilly rinks ahead by just one shot each; the score remained similar by the end of the 10th with the 'Rom' still holding a four shot advantage.

During ends 11 to 15 Romilly increased their lead to 16 shots with the rinks of Bryn Gough, Howard Jones and Tony Freeman ahead by nine, three and five respectively, with Des Bannister's rink just one shot down.

Over the last six ends the rinks of Freeman and Jones outplayed their opponents, winning convincingly by eight and nine shots respectively, while Gough's rink won by three shots even though they dropped a six on the last end.

Unfortunately Bannister's rink, although battling hard, could not claw back their deficit and finally lost by three shots. The result was a fine win for Romilly by 17 shots, 81-64, taking 12 points to Ynyscynon's 2.

Busy times at the Wenvoe Golf Club

BELOW: Alan and Fran Grant (Mixed Open) receive their prize.

THE busy golf season is well underway at Wenvoe Castle with a flurry of competitions and two open days held within the space of a week.

The first was the Mixed Open and attracted a large entry from throughout the region. The weather was kind and the course, as usual, in magnificent condition.

The top score for visitors were the pairing of Irene Bridges and Stan Burford from Whitehall Golf Club who won with an impressive 40 points. Second place went to Ros and Don Llewellyn from Cardiff Golf Club with 38 points.

The Wenvoe Castle member's prize went to Fran and Alan Grant with 39 points with Lynda and Rob Campbell just missing out with a score of 37 points.

The Ladies Open Day soon followed and there were real concerns about the weather on the day and the green staff went out early to give the course a helping hand to deal with exceptionally heavy overnight rain which continued into the morning.

The work paid dividends as the sun finally shone through and the conditions for the competition were excellent.

Winning team for the visitors were Sheila Morrow, Shirley Morgan and Margaret Medlow with an impressive 78 points. Second in the group were Mary Burke, Rita Howells and Wendy Motton with 74 points.

Visitors prize winners Sheila Morrow and Shirley Morgan with Barbara Beedham.

The top score for the home club went to the team of Lynda Campbell, Denise Lloyd and Fran Grant with 76 points and in second place were Lesley Arnold, Trish Walker and Cheryl Powell.

In presenting the prizes, the lady captain, Barbara Beedham, paid tribute to the work done by the green staff in producing the course to such a high standard and thanked all the club staff and administrators who worked hard throughout the two very successful days.

Throughout the month of May there were very high entries in the various men's competitions as players looked to be the first to have their names in gold leaf on the honours boards.

First to do so was club champion Keith Stimpson who won the Celnik Cup on countback from Kevin Swain, both doing well to score 37 points in very tough conditions. The Coronation Cup, a rare bogey competition, was won by Russell Owens with +4 just beating Alan Hewett and Steve Nicholls, who both recorded +3.

Nick Caulfield, the current Glamorgan seniors champion, posted a net 69 to win the Welsh handicap qualifier and moves on to challenge at the higher level.

In the ladies section Helen Hughes won the Tegwen Perkins Stableford with an exceptional 39 points, while Candice Peterson posted the best score in the ladies championship qualifier.

Perhaps performance of the month went to club member Dan Williams who came out on top in the Whitchurch Open men's singles with an impressive net 67.

Considering the entry of over 150 players this was some achievement made more remarkable as it included a hole in one on the ninth hole which is a par 4 and measures some 334 yards.

Defeat for the Centurions

SULLY Centurions 1st XI hosted Newport Fugitives at Burnham Avenue on Saturday with the visitors winning by eight wickets.

Centurions' openers Santosh Singh and Shae Ellis (39) got off to a good start but when Santosh fell for 21, Tom Davies was out without troubling the scorers.

Pavel (25) and Ben Spear (30) were a handful, but the innings came to close with just 156 on the board, which was always going to be difficult to defend.

For Fugitives Jones hit 79 before falling to Santosh and with a good 37 from Millichip, before he was bowled by Ellis, the visitors only needed 20 overs to reach the target.

Sully Centurions 156, Newport Fugitives 157/2.

The 2nd XI travelled to Newport Fugitives and were given a real battering as the home side racked up a huge 371 for 3 in their 45 overs.

Main men for Fugitives were Adams with 181 not out and Simkins (96). The wickets went to Peter Thomas (2 for 69) and Luke Burnett (1 for 57).

Centurions' innings got off to a terrible start with two wickets in the first two overs. This set the trend for the entire innings, with no fewer than six ducks.

Top scorer was Luke Burnett with 13, but the innings finished on just 49 in the 20th over.

Newport Fugitives II 371/3, Sully Centurions II 49.

LOCAL CLUBS PARTNER UP

BARRY Town United AFC and Vale Ladies & Girls Football Club are delighted to announce their new partnership which commences with immediate effect.

The link will see a formal affiliation between the two clubs and collaboration at all levels including knowledge sharing; coach exchange and community engagement that will hopefully provide exciting opportunities for football at all levels within Barry and the Vale.

The partnership will also see Vale girl's senior team renamed as Barry Town United AFC, the first female team to play under the Barry Town banner since 2002.

The ladies team will compete in the SWWGL Division 2 and play their matches at Jenner Park. The team will be managed by the Vale Ladies and Girls backroom staff, who will develop and feed players through their junior system.

Luke Williams, chairman, Vale Ladies and Girls Football Club, commented: "We see the partnership with Barry Town United AFC providing our female section with the final piece of the jigsaw."

"We have quickly developed an unrivalled junior set up in the female game and this partnership will now give us a strong identity in Welsh Football and first class facilities to nurture the exciting talent we have within our club."

"Having use of a

2,000-seater stadium with a first-class new playing surface will make a huge difference to player development. We look forward to working with Barry Town United AFC and creating a strong partnership for years to come."

Eric Thomas, chairman, Barry Town United AFC, added: "We have enjoyed a positive relationship with Vale Ladies and Girls FC over recent years, and I am delighted that this has resulted in this formal partnership."

"They share a very similar ethos and vision to us and we are very much looking forward to working with them."

Gavin Chesterfield, first team manager, Barry Town United AFC, said: "I'm delighted to welcome the Vale girls into the Barry Town United family. This builds upon our recent partnership with Vale Reds Disability team and further offers opportunities for footballers across Barry and the Vale. These are very much exciting times to be involved with our club."

Barry Town United AFC going into the 2015/2016 season will now have eight teams within its structure - under-8s, under-13s, under-15s, under-19s, senior team plus two pan-disability teams at under-16 and over-16 age groups, and a senior ladies team.

Millwood bowlers slip to loss in league

IN the last game of the South Vale League game, Millwood 'A' were beaten by Cadoxton by the margin of five shots, 79-74, after a fairly hard-fought game by both sides.

After five ends of the scheduled 21 ends, Millwood were holding a rather healthy-looking six shot lead at 22-16. The lead was soon wiped out and Cadoxton established a nine-shot advantage after 10 ends to take a 34-43 lead.

The game was keenly fought and after the 15th end, Cadoxton only had a slender two-shot to be leading 54-56.

The 21st end saw the game stay in Cadoxton's favour for them to win by five shots.

Although Millwood did win on three rinks out of the four, a big loss by rink five, meant that the points score was 8-6 to Cadoxton.

Millwood welcomed Murch Bowling Club as their opponents in the first of the new division 4 format whereby each club plays home and away.

With the first five ends played, the score stood at 22-14 in favour of the home side, who then made a further increase to lead after 10 ends by 46-27.

Millwood then put further pressure on Murch to take a lead at the 15th end by a 80-41 shot lead, and after the 21st end, Millwood had a very impressive 99-57 shot advantage.

With all Millwood rinks winning, Millwood gained the maximum 14 points for the first game, with rink 3, skipped by Alan Evans taking a 21 shot winning margin, which did help a lot!

Thanks go to Murch for a well-played contest, and hope that Millwood can do the same in the return game later on in the season.

This Saturday, Millwood will be away to St. Peter's - let's keep up the good form!

Millwood 'A' side travelled out to play Murch 'A' in the first Division 7 game, and came away with the victory under their belt.

Millwood produced a match winning six shot margin, winning 72-66, thereby ensuring a 10-4 points tally.

After the fifth end had been played, the scores were tied at 14-14, whereupon after the 10th end, Millwood had taken a slender 31 - 27 lead.

Try as they may, Millwood couldn't keep the lead, for after the 15th end Murch had taken a 43-47 lead, but Millwood fought back in the final quarter, and at the end of the game the lead had changed hands again for Millwood to come out winners.

By winning on two rinks Millwood gained the 10-4 point win. As with every game of bowls, the contest was played in the best of sportsmanship by both sides.

Thank you all players on both sides, enjoy the game, win-lose-or draw!

This Saturday Millwood 'A' are home to Barry Central - another win would be nice!

Zarzal defies top weight

EVAN Williams' seven-year-old Zarzal defied a hefty top weight of 12st, 7lbs, when winning the Ladbroke's Handicap Hurdle at Worcester last Friday.

Zarzal, who was landing a hat-trick, won by two-and-a-half lengths from Baths Well and was ridden by 7lb claimer Conor Orr. There were 16 runners and Zarzal went off the 4-1 favourite. The closing handicap hurdle went to Debbie Hamer's Pennant Dancer who, ridden by Paul Moloney, beat Steps And Stairs trained by top trainer Jonjo O'Neill. Debbie Hamer hails from the Vale but now trains in west Wales.

Pennant Dancer, a winner of its previous race, won by nine lengths at odds of 8-1.

Point-to-point blast from the past – the 1970s

by BRIAN LEE

BEFORE the start of the 1977 season, I wrote a first person – or should that be first horse – piece about Wales' most popular point-to-pointer and under the heading 'Straight From The Horse's Mouth'.

It went like this...

'My name is Mandryka. I am the most talked about point-to-pointer in the history of Welsh hunt racing. I have graced the Welsh scene for the past six years. During that time I have chalked-up 34 victories beating the record of the grey Sylvester 11 who won 29 races in the 1950s.

'I have been tagged Rhondda Rocket, Welsh Wonder and Mighty Midget. But I must admit that a lot of the credit for my success must go to my owner/trainer Tom Morgan, a Rhondda sheep farmer.

'Tom bought me from Harry Blackshaw's stable for just 120 guineas. Yes, that's right, 120 guineas. Not much to look at, they said. They even called me 'weedy'. I soon showed them. Didn't I?

'Just because I had finished down the field in several hurdle races they thought I was a scrubber. Rounding up sheep with Tom's daughter Shan aboard is much more fun than racing in hurdle events.

'My name first became popular when I beat Milton Bradley's Ocroi, the mare everyone said was unbeatable in Wales. Perhaps you'll remember how I sped past her that day at Lower Machen. I've enjoyed success outside of Wales, too. My victories across the other side of the bridge did a lot to put Welsh point-to-pointing on the map. When the new season opens in February I will be 13.

'Some cynics are already saying the Rhondda Rocket is burnt out. Well, don't you believe them. I have been recharging my batteries these past few months and I'm raring to zoom away again. Look out for me soon. You'll find me in the winner's enclosure.'

Well, Mandryka who was retired in 1978, in all won 38 ladies' open races, five men's opens and a hunter chase. He once completed a sequence of finishing in the frame 33 times and in nearly 80 point-to-points fell only once.

One story of mine which got me into trouble with some of the bookmakers was headed 'Horse On Bookies' Boards Was Miles Away At Home In Her Stable.'

It read: 'GHOST RUNNERS at some Welsh point-to-points are costing racegoers money.

'Take the recent Tredegar Farmers' meeting. Several punters backed Starletta to win the Maiden event – but they had no chance of collecting. Seven-year-old Starletta was miles away in her Llanwrnyn Stable suffering with corns.

'So how did Starletta's name get on those bookmakers' boards? One explanation is that the owner of a horse called Star Choice declared the wrong number. Surely someone should have checked the list of entries? The same type of incident occurred in the first race for which there were only five runners. No excuse here. 'Bookmakers were taking bets on a horse that wasn't running. The horse they had on their boards was Royal Refuge. In fact, it should have been Westlawn Hill. When I pointed out the mistake to one bookmaker the error was corrected. One punter who realised he had backed Starletta was apparently refused his money back. Point-To-Point officials must ensure that mistakes of this nature don't happen again.

'Punters would also be wise to make sure their fancy is in the paddock before putting their money down.'

My phone hardly stopped ringing after a number of bookies read my piece and, for the record, they didn't phone to congratulate me on it either!

1977 was the year that Cowbridge's John Llewellyn broke a bone in his right hand in a fall at Cheltenham Racecourse and the year when Cyril Morgan's Canhe, ridden by Tim Rooney, made it four wins in a row when winning the men's open at the Pentrych Hunt Steeplechases. Barry's Anne Williams riding her father Ted's Channel Ten beat the mighty Mandryka in the ladies' open and Aberthin's Ross Farr won the maiden on Davin Moor.

Bridgend butcher David Oakes took the members' race on Abbot's Delight and I congratulated the Pentrych officials for providing a racecard which contained form figures at no extra cost.

Canhe went on to make it six wins in a row when accounting for Philbrough in the men's open at the Gelligaer Farmers, where Anne Williams celebrated her 21st birthday a day early by winning the ladies' open race on Channel Ten. Bonvilton's Tudor Harris took the members' race on Green Art VI.

Two real characters I had the pleasure of writing about in the 1970s were Henry Blake and Richard Hambleton. Blake was known as the man who talked to horses. Born in Somerset, he lived on Llanybyther Mountain in Dyfed and he used to ride his small grey mare Iantella in the Foxhunters Chase at Aintree. He claimed to be able to 'talk to horses' and his bestselling book 'Talking With Horses' was published in 15 languages.

He claimed to talk to horses by way of ESP and telepathy and he used to ride a lot for Dillwyn Thomas of Kenfig Hill. He was known as The Major, owing to his military bearing and sadly he ended his days in a wheelchair – the result of a riding accident.

He loved his Woodbines and I remember visiting him in Rookwood Hospital and 'feeding' him his cigarettes as he couldn't hold them himself. One good horse he rode to victory a lot was Dillwyn Thomas's Prince Haven II.

As for Chepstow's Richard Hambleton, he once accused me of having an affair with a fellow racing reporter (female, I hasten to add, and no I wasn't). It was just that Richard blamed me for everything that was written about his horses that appeared in the Hunter Chasers & Point-To-Pointers Annual, which I had nothing to do with at all. But I couldn't convince him.

You might have thought that Richard, who had his teeth knocked out, both hands broken, his shoulder smashed and various other injuries, including his face badly damaged in a car crash, would have thought about hanging-up his riding boots. But no, he continued riding for years.

The form book said that his mare Gracious Lady was 'a highly unsatisfactory ride and a waste of time for racing.' However, in 1975 he won two races on her, despite being left at the start each time! On one famous occasion Richard rode two winners on the same day at Howick.

Young rollerskaters impress in Andover!

GLAMORGAN Artistic Roller Skating Club entered a team of their younger skaters in the Tots, Mini and Espoir roller skating championships held in Andover recently.

After a long journey, the team - Ewan Maxwell, Michael Vaughan, Maya Archampong and Bethan Daly - headed straight to the leisure centre for the pre-competition warm up and some last minute training.

The Federation of Artistic Roller Skating splits their Championship events by age, and this Championship event covered from ages eight-13. This is the first time in over 20 years that a Welsh club has had a team of a high enough calibre to enter the event, which is a huge achievement for Glamorgan Artistic and a great credit to their coaches Sheila Davies, Hilary Cridge, Donna Daly, Anne Marie Escott, Elizabeth Vaughan, Amy Goodwin and Julie Whittingham, who give up so much of their free time to coach the club members.

The event attracts clubs from all over Great Britain and was attended by over 200 skaters. All the skaters performed magnificently with Michael Vaughan and Bethan Daly placing second in their event - the couple's solo and free dance; this was a fantastic result for the club which is extremely proud of the standard its competition teams have achieved.

These results are a testament to the hard work and great effort the team have put in during the months prior to this event, training at Llantwit Leisure Centre, Cogan Leisure Centre and Colcot sports Centre, Barry over three times per week.

Anybody interested in learning to skate and perhaps progressing to competition level is welcome to visit the club at its Tuesday session held at Colcot sports centre from 6pm-8pm. Roller skating is a great sport for all ages, it helps with balance, coordination and can improve core muscle strength providing a complete aerobic workout.

THE SCORPIONS ARE STUNG BY HORNETS

SOUTH Wales Scorpions again suffered from lack of experience and morale as they allowed Rochdale Hornets in for 12 tries in Mountain Ash on Sunday, going down 64-10.

However the home side held out well in the first half despite an early Rochdale try where Warren Thompson ran 50 metres to set up Paul Crook for the opening try which he converted himself.

They aimed for a quick second but Crook's 40-20 attempt just failed. Paul Edwards came close to scoring the Scorpions' opening try, but was beaten by the touchline and forced a goal line drop out.

Rochdale played a good kicking game for their second try which was on 27 minutes. Danny Bridge knocked it through first, then Dale Bloomfield followed on and Danny Yates pounced. Jordan Case missed the kick.

Yates ran over for another straight from kick-off and Case converted before Scorpions struck back on 34 minutes when Yannick Parker scored in the corner but Paul Emanuelli missed the kick.

But Rochdale addressed the balance a couple of minutes later when Bridge went over. The same man opened the scoring two minutes after the interval, before Wayne English added a try on his 350th professional appearance.

Scorpions didn't give up and continued to threaten the Hornets' line. A good decoy kick from Emanuelli came to nothing as the ball went dead while a successful 40-20 attempt by Emanuelli was wasted due to knock on from the scrum.

Rochdale got going and Scorpions were powerless to stop them. Bradley Hargreaves went over in the corner before a good passing move opened a gap for Lee Paterson to run over unchallenged. Danny Yates converted that one.

Scorpions got into double figures after Rochdale knocked on from kick-off, Kyle Scrivens running under the sticks from the resulting scrum and Emanuelli converted.

However Rochdale won a scrum of their own and immediately got a try back in similar fashion through Paul Crook who converted himself.

They scored three more before the end. Thompson set up Crook to run in for his hat-trick, converting his own try. Yates was over next before English got his second - his 150th club try.

However, the last attempt at the line came from the Scorpions after Curtis Davies kicked, looking for Kyle Scrivens, but the ball was too fast for them and ended over the dead ball line.

Central earns win in first game of season

BARRY Central entertained a team from Cadoxton in what was the first game of the season in the Cardiff and District League at a sunny Gladstone Gardens.

Unfortunately, the Cadoxton team were without a full complement of team players, but their captain, Dave Fanning, insisted that they honour the fixture and play the game.

The home side started very well and included some of the new players recruited after a good response from advertising in The GEM.

The rink skipped by Tom Kaged started as they meant to go on and after 8 ends were winning 26 shots to 1, and this score increased gradually throughout the game, with Tom's rink winning the game by 49 shots to 7.

There was a great deal of banter during the game with ex-Cadoxton member Ken Tanner, now leading for Central. Tony Goddard's rink also started well and were winning 15 shots to 4, but a remarkable turnaround occurred for the Dave Evans rink, scoring 12 shots to 4 in five ends to make the game into a tight finish, most of which was the result of excellent bowling by the Cadoxton lead, Ron Cole. Level at 20 ends, Cadoxton took the last end to win by one shot, 22 to 21.

Ted Hudd's rink had a similar start as Tom Kaged and were ahead 16 shots to 3 after six ends; the game continued in this way until the end with a comprehensive win for Ted's rink by 38 shots to 12.

Captain Dave Goddard had a tight game on his hands against the experienced rink that was skipped by D Tuck. The scores were level pegging until the 16th end, when Central picked up a four, which they retained until the end of the game. Central won by five shots, 22 to 17.

A great afternoon was had by all and everyone enjoyed the catering that the ladies provided.

Central now look forward to their next league game this Saturday, which will be another local derby against Millwood. GT

Chess club retain Plate WITHOUT BREAKING A SWEAT!

IN the Welsh U1500 cup the Barry Chess Club has had a long and respectable history.

In recent years this tournament has not been supported as well as we would have liked but as a club Barry have felt it was important to take part in a national competition.

In 2010 and 2012 we were the Plate runner up. In 2011, we went one better to be the runner up of the major competition.

In 2013 we travelled to Merthyr for the Plate final, returning home victorious after drawing the match with Hollywell 2-2, but as both of our victories were on the top two boards we won on bottom board elimination.

In 2014 we travelled to Pencoed to play Morriston in the major competition and again were victorious by the maximum margin of 4-0.

So on to 2015 - with this good record behind us we again travelled to Pencoed, and our opponents were Pontypridd.

At 1.30pm our opponents were nowhere to be seen so Kevin Staveley, the match arbiter, kindly agreed to toss the coin for colours; my correct call of heads gave us white on boards 1 and 3.

With no sign of Pontypridd, Martin

Ricketts on board one and Windsor Lewis on board three both moved a pawn to Queen 4. Steve Bonutto and myself merely depressed the clock as we had the black pieces.

There was still no sign of Pontypridd and the clocks reached 30 minutes and effectively Pontypridd were defaulted, so Barry retained the U1500 title without breaking a sweat.

Having won trophies at the recent Barry Club Championship, this means both Windsor and Stephen picked up two trophies in less than a week, while for me it is another KO Cup trophy to fill my windowsill.

The Barry Chess Club meets at 7.30pm each Monday at the West End Club, St. Nicholas Road, Barry CF62 6QY. The club is open to players of all standards; whether you are interested in playing competitive chess or just the occasional friendly games.

New players are very welcome to just turn up on the night but if you contact one of the club members through the website we can explain what is happening on the night you have in mind, and arrange for someone to greet you on your arrival.
